COBB AND SPEAKER IN 'THROWN' GAME SCANDAL

'DUTCH' LEONARD AND WOOD ALSO INVOLVED IN 'BETTING COUP'

Chicago, Dec. 21.—A "thrown" baseball game between the Detroit and Cleveland teams of the American League played September 25, 1919, explained the forced resignations of Ty Cobb of the Tigers and Tris Speaker of Cleveland, leading managers of the league, Judge K. M. Landis, high commissioner of baseball, declared in a statement today.

The investigation by Landis involves also "Dutch" Leonard, Joe Wood and Fred C. West, an employe of the Detroit ball park.

RANDALL INDICTED AS POLICE CLUBBER; 8 WITNESSES HEARD

Leon M. Randall, Boston policeman attached to the Athens street station, was today indicted for manslaughter in connection with the beating to death of John J. Ramsey of Roxbury, who was arrested by Randall.

The indictment was returned by the Suffolk County special Grand Jury after eight witnesses were heard. While the indictment was secret, District Attorney O'Brien announced that he had sent for the policeman to plead to the indictment.

Randall surrendered shortly after and was held for arraignment late today.

While twenty witnesses were in court ready to appear before the Grand Jury, only eight were heard, the indictment being quickly reached.

Miss Rosanetta Ramsey, sister of the slain man, attired in mourning, and a brother, George Ramsey, were among the witnesses. They paced nervously up and down the corridor of the court house awaiting their turn to be called.

Two surprise witnesses in the case were brother patrolmen of the accused officer, Patrolmen Joseph

As the man whose vitality amazed physicians lay dying, his wife Helen waited nearby ready for the longed-for moment of recognition and forgiveness which never came.

DOLE BOARD HITS MAYOR; ELECTS LEVERONI HEAD

Following a stormy meeting behind closed doors, the Boston Board of Overseers of Public Welfare today elected Judge Frank Leveroni chairman to succeed Simon E. Hecht, removed by Mayor Nichols after nineteen years service.

The action was construed as a direct slap at the mayor, in view of the fact that at a conference yesterday he suggested Nathan A. Heller as chairman.

Apparently the majority of the Board were in sympathy with Hecht, for Judge Leveroni was said to have been elected on the first ballot. He was nominated by Overseer James J. Crowley.

When newspapermen arrived at the Board's office seeking the results of the election Judge Leveroni shouted: "There is no news. You will have to get your information from the mayor's office. That's all I'll say."

Police Recover Bodies ∾ From Death Boat ∾ Sunk by Hudson Ice

Hint 'Watch King's' Wife Slain in Love Tragedy

New York, Dec. 21.—The suicide theory attached to the death of Mrs. Robert H. Ingersoll, who is alleged to have severely wounded Wallace M. Probasco in her fashionable Park avenue apartment on Sunday and then turned the pistol on herself, today was under the fire of her attorney, Frederick C. Leubuscher.

In a statement issued after Probasco had been released from the prison ward at Bellevue Hospital on $12,500 bail on a technical charge of homicide and removed to a private sanitarium, Leubuscher denied that Mrs. Ingersoll owed Probasco money, said Probasco was the pursuer of the dead woman, and demanded a thorough police investigation of the case.

"News articles so far advanced, all of which emanate from the Probasco side, seem to indicate that Mrs. Ingersoll was the ursuer and Mr. Probasco was the pursued," he said.

"I have letters to show that it was the other way around; that he was infatuated with her. Mrs. Ingersoll had forbidden him to enter the house."

He said that only a few days before the shooting Mrs. Ingersoll had authorized him to start three suits against Probasco one for the recovery of jewelry and the others for the recovery of moneys.

Mrs. Ingersoll was the wife of the dollar watch manufacturer and Probasco is the son-in-law of the late Robert G. Ingersoll, famous agnostic. The two families are not related, however.

Probasco was released on bail by a special homicide court session in the prison ward at Bellevue after the verdict of Dr. Charles Norris, medical examiner, that Mrs. Ingersoll died from a self inflicted wound. Probasco is still considered to be dangerously wounded.

The strangest pact in the world was that contracted by the "Watch King" and his wife, according to one line of information already gleaned in the investigation into the tragedy.

The 72-year-old husband, according to the investigators, knew of the relationship between his wife and Probasco. It had been agreed that Mrs. Ingersoll was to go to Paris and secure a divorce from the "Watch King" there.

The Probascos were to be divorced. Then Mrs. Ingersoll and Probasco were to be married.

Then comes the strangest clause of all. Ingersoll was to live under the same roof with his divorced wife and the man she loved.

To make matters all the more unusual, Mrs. Probasco—who had been estranged from her husband while he was enjoying Mrs. Ingersoll's friendship—put up her home as security for his bail, and then begged that he be taken to a private institution

BELIEVE DEATH LAUNCH TOLL IS OVER 40

New York, Dec. 21 (A.P.).—Police and firemen today continued grappling among the ice floes of the Hudson River for the bodies of ten men still believed missing from among more than two score workmen in search of jobs, who were drowned when the launch Linseed King capsized.

Twenty-seven others of more than sixty men who crowded the 42-foot craft in its perilous trip across the river from 95th street, New York, to Edgewater, N. J., were rescued after clinging to ice cakes and the sides of the launch for almost an hour.

Captain John Rohweider, 29-year-old skipper of the craft, who swam more than a mile towards the Jersey shore before he was picked up, was under police guard at the Knickerbocker Hospital today, suffering from shock and exposure and threatened with pneumonia. He faces technical charges of negligence and homicide.

The launch was owned by Spencer Kellogg & Sons, linseed oil manufacturers, and more than 100 men, most of them answering an advertisement, gathered at dawn at the company's New York pier for the trip to the plant across the river. Captain Rohweider says only 60 men, less than the boat's estimated capacity, crowded aboard for the first trip, but some of the survivors place the figure close to 100.

Midway across the boat capsized, but just what caused the accident has not been determined. Captain Rohweider says the launch struck a huge ice cake that drove a hole

More than 25 men were trapped in the small cabin of the boat. Those on deck leaped overboard and clung to the ice floes and to the ship's side, although many, their fingers numbed by the cold, lost their grips and slipped beneath the water.

Thirty bodies had been recovered early today, but relatives of at least 10 others, who visited the morgue, failed to find the bodies they sought. through its bow, but police were unable to find a hole in the boat. Others said the boat was shoved on its side by an ice floe, and the men rushing to the other side to right her caused her to capsize.

SANTA IS HERE WITH $1 BILLS

South Boston has renewed its faith in Santa Claus, following the appearance of an honest-to-goodness Twentieth Century addition of Old Nick in that section.

This modern Santa appeared along Broadway today in an automobile driven by a companion. In his hand he clutched a roll of new $1 bills and these he distributed with a lavish hand.

High school students going home from school garnered about a hundred of the bills, while invariably the machine was stopped when a baby carriage was passed and the person pushing the carriage was given a cash present. The identity of the occupants of the auto could not be learned, so swiftly did they travel in distributing their presents.

FAIL TO FIND CAUSE OF GUNPOWDER WRECK

Danbury, Ct., Dec. 21 (A.P.)—The investigation by officials of the Central New England Railroad has failed thus far to disclose the cause of the derailment of freight train O.B.-2 at Towners, N. Y., Sunday or of the origin of the fire that broke out in the wreckage immediately afterwards. The eighteen persons injured in the explosion that occurred when the fire reached a carload of gunpowder are recovering.

Busy Partridges Do $14,000 Damage in One State

Concord, N. N., Dec. 21 (A.P.).—Damage caused by partridges this year was estimated today by Fish and Game Commissioner Mott L. Bartlett to be about $14,000.

This is almost $10,000 more than the damage estimated for last year.

The disastrous activities of these game birds are limited in large part to the destruction of buds in fruit orchards.

HOLIDAY MAIL LATE ON LINER

Arrangements were today completed by officials of the Cunard Line for special trucks to meet the steamship Samaria, due here Sunday with 5,000 sacks of Christmas mail.

POISON RUM HIT BY GRAND JURY

that major crimes are being committed while persons are under the influence of the stuff prohibition has given the people instead of that which was recognized by the laws of the land prior to the passage of the eighteenth amendment.

DENOUNCE GUN TOTERS.

The report throughout intimates strongly that prohibition is a failure, and this opinion, voted by the majority, was so strongly resented by two of the jurors that they appeared before Judge Fosdick and asked that they be recorded as dissenters.

These two men, Joseph I. Frankland, a salesman of No. 51 Ingleside avenue, Winthrop, and Charles A. Turner, a laborer of No. 4 Circuit square, Roxbury, declared they believed the crimes of violence to be the work of dope-crazed men and not men made irrational by bootleg liquor.

"The degree to which 'gun toting is indulged in,'" says the report, "so overshadows other crimes that in our opinion it requires immediate attention.

"The fact, and it is a fact, that most generally the violators are irresponsible aliens makes the matter even more serious. In the hands of such persons a revolver is an incentive to the commission of crime, and there can be no possible justification for permitting to remain in this country persons who menace the lives of our citizens. Such persons should immediately be sent back whence they came."

"We are of the opinion that liquor is at the bottom of it all," the report continues. "The youths of today, who seem to be unrestrained, drink liquor because it is considered smart or fashionable. We are of the opinion that these boys after getting a taste know no bounds in order to obtain money with which to buy liquor and engage in nightly orgies. They resort to the easiest way. Robbery, breaking and entering and sometimes murder is the result.

BOYS SAVE 6 AT BRIGHTON FIRE

Two small boys played hero roles today as six persons escaped from flames that swept through the two and a half-story wooden dwelling at No. 105 Strathmore road, Brighton.

Howard Brady, eight, who roomed in the house with his father, Benjamin J. Brady, heard the crackling flames and ran through the house, awaking all occupants.

His cousin, Edwin Gundy, eleven, of No. 1754 Commonwealth avenue, saw the smoke as he delivered papers in the district and ran into the house to help give the alarm.

The fire started in a second floor bedroom, but the cause was not determined. Delay in notifying the department gave the flames a chance to gain headway before firemen arrived, and they burned up through the roof, causing damage estimated at $2,500.

Firemen helped the tenants save most of their belongings. The house is owned by Mrs. Mary E. Hatch of Commonwealth avenue and occupied by Mrs. Elizabeth Shortell and several lodgers, including the Brady boy and his father, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Hanson and Mrs. Mary Murray.

FIRE CUTS OFF WATER SUPPLY OF BROCKTON

Brockton, Dec. 21.—A $50,000 fire that crippled the machinery in the water-pumping station at Silver Lake, Bryantville, today rendered this city and the towns of East and West Bridgewater, Whitman, Bryantville and Hanson short of water in case of a serious fire.

For two days, possibly three these communities must depend on an emergency supply in the Twin Reservoirs, Avon, and the Montello Reservoir, which are insufficient to take care of any extraordinary demand.

Gas, generated in the coal pocket of the Silver Lake pumping station, caused an explosion that sent the flames sweeping through the power house and destroying the machinery.

A Brockton fire engine, speeding to the scene, eighteen miles from this city, skidded in Whitman and hurled eight firemen into the road. All escaped with severe shaking-up

The scene of the fire is far from any village, and only pumping station employes live in the vicinity Fighting valiantly, these men got the flames under control before outside help arrived.

The Silver Lake reservoir supplies this city and the five towns and the Avon reservoirs supply the same area. This emergency reserve was put into use through real necessity today for the first time since established, twenty-five years ago Hitherto it has been used occasionally when Silver Lake began to get low in Summer.

The Montello reserve will not be used unless the emergency lasts for several days.

According to Superintendent of Water Works Horace Kingman, the area affected normally uses 4,000,000 gallons of water daily. The Avon reservoirs have a supply sufficient for only a day and a half at this rate, but new water is constantly feeding into it.

SEEK BAY STATE REFERENDUM ON RUM LAW

A referendum in Massachusetts that would have the effect of binding the state's representatives in Congress to vote on liquor legislation in accordanace with the desires of a majority of the voters is sought by the Liberty Civic League of Massachusetts.

The league head, William H. Mitchell today filed a lengthy petition at the State House, accompanied by hundreds of signatures.

The proposition advanced by the League is similar to that sponsored by Representative Elijah Adlow in 1923 and which passed the Legislature but was vetoed by Governor Cox.

The petition asks that a referendum be taken in the State to determine whether a majority of voters of the State desire to retain the present prohibition laws or whether they favor the modifying or repeal of these laws.

Officials at the State House held the opinion that if such an order was passed by the Legislature, it would be obligatory upon the Massachusetts representatives in Congress to follow the wishes of the voters in the matter.

FOUND GUILTY ON STORY TOLD BY OWN WITNESS

When Chester Munroe of New York called on a friend to testify for him in Municipal Court today he blundered badly. The friend, instead of helping Munroe, gave testimony which resulted in Judge Zottoli finding him guilty and giving him a three-month suspended sentence. Munroe was convicted of assaulting Patrolman Francis A. McGeever of Station 5. Officers stopped Munroe and some companions and searched them for weapons, following a hold-up near the Common. Munroe said the officer was the aggressor in the fight which followed. Munroe's friend, however, testified that Munroe struck the first blow.

Nine Deserted Children Are Calling to You, Boston Goodfellows!

Who wants to play Santa Claus this week to nine deserted young children?

The Christmas Goodfellow Editor of the Boston Evening American has been appealed to for assistance by the mother of these kiddies and will gladly give the name and address to anyone desiring to give them a lift.

Don't YOU want to play Kris Kringle to those unfortunate youngsters, whose mother is working so hard to keep them together? We are certain of one thing and that is, if you DO play Santa Claus this week to these impoverished kiddies, you will be remembered in their prayers for the remainder of their lives.

And what happiness will come to you when you think of the kind deed you have performed! There is nothing like that feeling! We know, from experience, and countless hundreds of Christmas Goodfellows know it, too. That's why they continue to be Christmas Goodfellows each year.

Here is the letter written by the Roxbury woman living on Eustis street, who wants a Christmas Goodfellow to help her and her nine deserted children in their dire need:

"I am writing you these few lines in behalf of my nine children who are earnestly waiting for Santa Claus. I do hope you will not forget us. Our father deserted us, and my oldest daughter, who, when she worked, gave all she had to the family, and now she has to go to a Convalescent Home for rest and quiet and her nerves are shattered.

FLAPPERS ARE INJUNS, SAYS OLD FIGHTER

You wouldn't know the vernacular of the old wild and woolly West any more.

Where it used to include such expression as "them tha'r Injuns," and mean that same thing, it has now turned over to mean that the only Indians existent are the kind that go round with bared knees, shorn locks, chilled chests and frescoed and kalsomined countenances.

John Calvin Jones, 72, from Douglas, Arizona, pardner—the hardest-riding fighter in that part of the old West—has fought Indians through all the alphabetical arrangement of the tribes, from Apache to San Carlo, but he's licked when it comes to the Indians of the present mode—the domestic variety of flapper.

Brought to Boston from the balmy range where the Mexican border runs in an invisible, but nevertheless dampey defined, line, John Calvin Jones testified in the Crabtree hearing in Probate, and then unburdened himself of a bit of comparative discourse.

Sometimes the Redskins bit the dust and sometimes they saved their molars in a fine show of expectation and ambition. But John Calvin Jones and his followers were one of those hardy bands that eventually

The picture shows Olive Babineau of No. 4 Oak place, Hyde Park, deeply intrigued with the new fad. Leverett D. Halden, 83 years old, Malden city clerk, started it when he said a teaspoonful of sulphur in each shoe was a preventive of the grip. Now flappers who eschew overshoes are adopting it.

DEATH PENALTY URGED FOR BOY SLAYER

Chicago, Dec. 21.—Harold Joseph Croarkin was indicted for first degree murder by the Cook County Grand Jury, it was reported today. He confessed to killing six-year-old Walter Schmith last Friday night after attempting to mistreat him.

Both Croarkin, who is 26, and the Schmith boy are sons of wealthy families of the fashionable Rogers Park district.

State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe, said he would demand the death penalty.

"There are no extenuating circumstances for the killing of a six-year-old boy by a depraved man," he said. "There is no punishment too severe for him."

The confession of Croarkin excels in fiendishness that of Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb, who are now serving life sentences at Joliet for killing little Bobby Franks. The cases are almost identical.

"I expect I attacked eight or ten children, possibly half of them boys and half of them girls," he said.

HELLO! HELLO! THIS IS WINTER

Autumn will officially pass out of existence today and the local Weatherman predicts the birth of Winter tomorrow in anything but frigid surroundings.

Preceding the arrival of the Winter solstice there has been, throughout the country, a general rise in temperature accompanied by rains, and these conditions, according to the official forecast, will obtain hereabouts for the coming thirty-six hours.

The weather map today was free of any cold wave indications, even Northern New England showing response to the country-wide reaction to the recent frigid snap.

Since 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon the mercury atop the Federal Building has been climbing to a seasonable mark, starting at 30 above, and early today it had reached 36 above.

Forecast for Boston and vicinity: Cloudy with rain late tonight and Wednesday; slightly warmer Wednesday; fresh westerly winds, shifting to easterly Wednesday and increasing.

MAKE BIG HAUL IN 'MOONSHINE VALLEY'

Providence, Dec. 21 (A.P.).—Descending upon "Moonshine Valley," Central Falls, a force of twenty-five Federal prohibition agents from three States, under command of Chief Raiding Officer Harry W. Kendall and Prohibition Administrator Henry B. Goodenough, staged the biggest liquor raid in the annals of Rhode Island.

In six places visited they seized sixteen large stills, between 1,000 and 2,000 gallons of moonshine, about 25,000 gallons of mash and a large quantity of other articles used by moonshiners.

Five men and one woman were arrested. Four of the men and the woman are charged with illegal manufacture and possession of liquor. The other man, a Brockton, Mass., resident, whose automobile in the yard of one of the places raided was found to contain a large quantity of alleged moonshine in cans is charged with illegal possession and transportation.

GETS PATROL RIDE; HAPPY!

"He had longed for a ride in the patrol, but he had to get injured to receive it," said Patrolman Langlois today in telling of the accident to his son, Harold V. Langlois, Jr., 9, who was struck by an unidentified autoist on his way to school.

The boy was first taken to his home, No. 70 Baker street, Roxbury, and then removed to the Forest Hills Hospital in the patrol wagon of the West Roxbury station, which his father drives.

His injuries consisted of cuts and bruises [illegible]

More than 1,000 gallons of "moonshine" and redistilled "alky splits," bottled, colored and flavored to represent every known favorite brand of liquor, have been seized by the 31 officers under Captain George Patterson of the Boston police liquor squad and will not "wet" the holidays.

AND BOTTLES, BOXES, BAGS AND TRUNKS

This liquor, seized in large and small hauls in the past few days from speak-easies, stores, tenements and automobiles, is to be confiscated. At retail Boston prices it is worth $10,000. In the picture are seen Special Officers Higgins and Slattery and Desk Captain Patterson.

COYNE INSISTS PRESS ATTEND BEEF HEARING

Declaring the facts he possesses on rotten beef being served in Massachusetts institutions will "rock the State House," Representative Francis X. Coyne of Dorchester today declared he would bare these facts to the Governor's Council.

Mr. Coyne's only proviso, in agreeing to make public the information in his possession, is that members of the press be admitted to the hallowed precincts of the Council—something that has never before been done.

The Dorchester law-maker, whose sensational charges have already caused widespread comment, today declared he was perfectly willing to go before the Executive Council at its meeting tomorrow and make public everything he knows in connection with his charges.

At the same time he specifically announced that he reserved the right, irrespective of the action taken by the council, to have his charges probed by the General Court when that body convenes.

"To prove I have nothing to conceal," Mr. Coyne declared today, "I shall present myself at the executive council meeting tomorrow and voluntarily ask to be allowed the privilege of giving my facts and other information I possess, provided that representatives of the press be allowed in at the meeting, so that the people of the State may get all the facts."

Twentieth Century Earns $10,500,000 in One Year

New York, Dec. 21 (A.P.)—Earnings of the New York Central's crack train, the Twentieth Century Limited, will reach a high record above $10,500,000 this year, it was estimated today.

Total revenues of the Century last year were approximately $10,000,000, a high mark at that time.

Police Recover Bodies ∾ From Death Boat ∾ Sunk by Hudson Ice

Hint 'Watch King's' Wife Slain in Love Tragedy

New York, Dec. 21.—The suicide theory attached to the death of Mrs. Robert H. Ingersoll, who is alleged to have severely wounded Wallace M. Probasco in her fashionable Park avenue apartment on Sunday and then turned the pistol on herself, today was under the fire of her attorney, Frederick C. Leubuscher.

In a statement issued after Probasco had been released from the prison ward at Bellevue Hospital on $12,500 bail on a technical charge of homicide and removed to a private sanitarium, Leubuscher denied that Mrs. Ingersoll owed Probasco money, said Probasco was the pursuer of the dead woman, and demanded a thorough police investigation of the case.

"News articles so far advanced, all of which emanate from the Probasco side, seem to indicate that Mrs. Ingersoll was the ursuer and Mr. Probasco was the pursued," he said.

"I have letters to show that it was the other way around; that he was infatuated with her. Mrs. Ingersoll had forbidden him to enter the house."

He said that only a few days before the shooting Mrs. Ingersoll had authorized him to start three suits against Probasco one for the recovery of jewelry and the others for the recovery of moneys.

Mrs. Ingersoll was the wife of the dollar watch manufacturer and Probasco is the son-in-law of the late Robert G. Ingersoll, famous agnostic. The two families are not related, however.

Probasco was released on bail by a special homicide court session in the prison ward at Bellevue after the verdict of Dr. Charles Norris, medical examiner, that Mrs. Ingersoll died from a self inflicted wound. Probasco is still considered to be dangerously wounded.

The strangest pact in the world was that contracted by the "Watch King" and his wife, according to one line of information already gleaned in the investigation into the tragedy.

The 72-year-old husband, according to the investigators, knew of the relationship between his wife and Probasco. It had been agreed that Mrs. Ingersoll was to go to Paris and secure a divorce from the "Watch King" there.

The Probascos were to be divorced. Then Mrs. Ingersoll and Probasco were to be married.

Then comes the strangest clause of all. Ingersoll was to live under the same roof with his divorced wife and the man she loved.

To make matters all the more unusual, Mrs. Probasco—who had been estranged from her husband while he was enjoying Mrs. Ingersoll's friendship—put up her home as security for his bail, and then begged that he be taken to a private institution.

Good jobs do not walk the streets, they are listed in the Classified Columns. See Help Wanted, Classifications 50 and 53.

BELIEVE DEATH LAUNCH TOLL IS OVER 40

New York, Dec. 21 (A.P.).—Police and firemen today continued grappling among the ice floes of the Hudson River for the bodies of ten men still believed missing from among more than two score workmen in search of jobs, who were drowned when the launch Linseed King capsized.

Twenty-seven others of more than sixty men who crowded the 42-foot craft in its perilous trip across the river from 95th street, New York, to Edgewater, N. J., were rescued after clinging to ice cakes and the sides of the launch for almost an hour.

Captain John Rohwelder, 23-year-old skipper of the craft, who swam more than a mile towards the Jersey shore before he was picked up, was under police guard at the Knickerbocker Hospital today, suffering from shock and exposure and threatened with pneumonia. He faces technical charges of negligence and homicide.

The launch was owned by Spencer Kellogg & Sons, linseed oil manufacturers, and more than 100 men, most of them answering an advertisement, gathered at dawn at the company's New York pier for the trip to the plant across the river. Captain Rohwelder says only 60 men, less than the boat's estimated capacity, crowded aboard for the first trip, but some of the survivors place the figure close to 100.

Midway across the boat capsized, but just what caused the accident has not been determined. Captain Rohweider says the launch struck a huge ice cake that drove a hole through its bow, but police were unable to find a hole in the boat. Others said the boat was shoved on its side by an ice floe, and the men rushing to the other side to right her caused her to capsize.

More than 25 men were trapped in the small cabin of the boat. Those on deck leaped overboard and clung to the ice floes and to the ship's side, although many, their fingers numbed by the cold, lost their grips and slipped beneath the water.

Thirty bodies had been recovered early today, but relatives of at least 10 others, who visited the morgue, failed to find the bodies they sought.

SANTA IS HERE WITH $1 BILLS

South Boston has renewed its faith in Santa Claus, following the appearance of an honest-to-goodness Twentieth Century addition of Old Nick in that section.

This modern Santa appeared along Broadway today in an automobile driven by a companion. In his hand he clutched a roll of new $1 bills and these he distributed with a lavish hand.

High school students going home from school garnered about a hundred of the bills, while invariably the machine was stopped when a baby carriage was passed and the person pushing the carriage was given a cash present. The identity of the occupants of the auto could not be learned, so swiftly did they travel in distributing their presents.

FAIL TO FIND CAUSE OF GUNPOWDER WRECK

Danbury, Ct., Dec. 21 (A.P.)—The investigation by officials of the Central New England Railroad has failed thus far to disclose the cause of the derailment of freight train O.R.-2 at Towners, N. Y., Sunday or of the origin of the fire that broke out in the wreckage immediately afterwards. The eighteen persons injured in the explosion that occurred when the fire reached a carload of gunpowder are recovering.

Busy Partridges Do $14,000 Damage in One State

Concord, N. N., Dec. 21 (A.P.).—Damage caused by partridges this year was estimated today by Fish and Game Commissioner Mott L. Bartlett to be about $14,000.

This is almost $10,000 more than the damage estimated for last year.

The disastrous activities of these game birds are limited in large part to the destruction of buds in fruit orchards.

HOLIDAY MAIL LATE ON LINER

Arrangements were today completed by officials of the Cunard Line for special trucks to meet the steamship Samaria, due here Sunday with 5,000 sacks of Christmas mail.

The liner, now in mid-ocean wirelessed that she probably would arrive at Boston lightship early Sunday morning and dock at 9 a. m.

The 400 passengers on the big liner are to take part in a Christmas tree celebration aboard ship as she nears land on Christmas Day, the program to include an old-fashioned English Christmas dinner. The vessel left Liverpool Saturday night and Queenstown the following day with 200 passengers for Boston and an equal number for New York.

CROWDS WATCH MEN SAW BROKEN LOCK OF BANK CAR

Crowds of curious people gathered in front of the Federal National Bank, late today, when a lock on one of the institution cars broke, so that workmen had to employ hack saws to free several bags of money that were inside. Armed guards stood by the vehicle while mechanics worked on the broken lock and policemen appeared to keep the onlookers orderly.

that major crimes are being committed while persons are under the influence of the stuff prohibition has given the people instead of that which was recognized by the laws of the land prior to the passage of the eighteenth amendment.

DENOUNCE GUN TOTERS.

The report throughout intimates strongly that prohibition is a failure, and this opinion, voted by the majority, was so strongly resented by two of the jurors that they appeared before Judge Fosdick and asked that they be recorded as dissenters.

These two men, Joseph I. Frankland, a salesman of No. 51 Ingleside avenue, Winthrop, and Charles A. Turner, a laborer of No. 4 Circuit square, Roxbury, declared they believed the crimes of violence to be the work of dope-crazed men and not men made irrational by bootleg liquor.

"The degree to which 'gun toting is indulged in,'" says the report, "so overshadows other crimes that in our opinion it requires immediate attention.

"The fact, and it is a fact, that most generally the violators are irresponsible aliens makes the matter even more serious. In the hands of such persons a revolver is an incentive to the commission of crime, and there can be no possible justification for permitting to remain in this country persons who menace the lives of our citizens. Such persons should immediately be sent back whence they came."

"We are of the opinion that liquor is at the bottom of it all," the report continues. "The youths of today, who seem to be unrestrained, drink liquor because it is considered smart or fashionable. We are of the opinion that these boys after getting a taste know no bounds in order to obtain money with which to buy liquor and engage in nightly orgies. They resort to the easiest way. Robbery, breaking and entering and sometimes murder is the result.

BOYS SAVE 6 AT BRIGHTON FIRE

Two small boys played hero roles today as six persons escaped from flames that swept through the two and a half-story wooden dwelling at No. 105 Strathmore road, Brighton.

Howard Brady, eight, who roomed in the house with his father, Benjamin J. Brady, heard the crackling flames and ran through the house, awaking all occupants.

His cousin, Edwin Gundy, eleven, of No. 1754 Commonwealth avenue, saw the smoke as he delivered papers in the district and ran into the house to help give the alarm.

The fire started in a second floor bedroom, but the cause was not determined. Delay in notifying the department gave the flames a chance to gain headway before firemen arrived, and they burned up through the roof, causing damage estimated at $2,500.

Firemen helped the tenants save most of their belongings. The house is owned by Mrs. Mary E. Hatch of Commonwealth avenue and occupied by Mrs. Elizabeth Shortell and several lodgers, including the Brady boy and his father, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Hanson and Mrs. Mary Murray.

FIRE CUTS OFF WATER SUPPLY OF BROCKTON

Brockton, Dec. 21.—A $50,000 fire that crippled the machinery in the water-pumping station at Silver Lake, Bryantville, today rendered this city and the towns of East and West Bridgewater, Whitman, Bryantville and Hanson short of water in case of a serious fire.

For two days, possibly three these communities must depend on an emergency supply in the Twin Reservoirs, Avon, and the Montello Reservoir, which are insufficient to take care of any extraordinary demand.

Gas, generated in the coal pocket of the Silver Lake pumping station, caused an explosion that sent the flames sweeping through the power house and destroying the machinery.

A Brockton fire engine, speeding to the scene, eighteen miles from this city, skidded in Whitman and hurled eight firemen into the road. All escaped with severe shaking-up.

The scene of the fire is far from any village, and only pumping station employes live in the vicinity. Fighting valiantly, these men got the flames under control before outside help arrived.

The Silver Lake reservoir supplies this city and the five towns, and the Avon reservoirs supply the same area. This emergency reserve was put into use through real necessity today for the first time since established, twenty-five years ago. Hitherto it has been used occasionally when Silver Lake began to get low in Summer.

The Montello reserve will not be used unless the emergency lasts for several days.

According to Superintendent of Water Works Horace Kingman, the area affected normally uses 4,000,000 gallons of water daily. The Avon reservoirs have a supply sufficient for only a day and a half at this rate, but new water is constantly feeding into it.

SEEK BAY STATE REFERENDUM ON RUM LAW

A referendum in Massachusetts that would have the effect of binding the state's representatives in Congress to vote on liquor legislation in accordanace with the desires of a majority of the voters is sought by the Liberty Civic League of Massachusetts.

The league head, William H. Mitchell today filed a lengthy petition at the State House, accompanied by hundreds of signatures.

The proposition advanced by the League is similar to that sponsored by Representative Elijah Adlow in 1923 and which passed the Legislature but was vetoed by Governor Cox.

The petition asks that a referendum be taken in the State to determine whether a majority of voters of the State desire to retain the present prohibition laws or whether they favor the modifying or repeal of these laws.

Officials at the State House held the opinion that if such an order was passed by the Legislature, it would be obligatory upon the Massachusetts representatives in Congress to follow the wishes of the voters in the matter.

FOUND GUILTY ON STORY TOLD BY OWN WITNESS

When Chester Munroe of New York called on a friend to testify for him in Municipal Court today he blundered badly. The friend, instead of helping Munroe, gave testimony which resulted in Judge Zottoli finding him guilty and giving him a three-month suspended sentence. Munroe was convicted of assaulting Patrolman Francis A. McGeever of Station 5. Officers stopped Munroe and some companions and searched them for weapons, following a hold-up near the Common. Munroe said the officer was the aggressor in the fight which followed. Munroe's friend, however, testified that Munroe struck the first blow.

ASKS COOLIDGE TO BACK BILL

Washington, Dec. 21.—The bill by Representative McLeod, Republican, Michigan, for reapportionment of the House on the basis of the 1920 census, was explained today to President Coolidge by the author of the measure, who sought support of it.

The bill would not alter the present number of Representatives but would reapportion them, making 240,000 voters the basis for a congressional district.

'DUTY' CALLS CHARLOTTE MILLS TO THE STAGE

Pawtucket, R. I., Dec. 21 (I.N.S.).—"It is my solemn duty to get out and meet the mothers of this country in order that my name and my mother's name may be cleared, for no girl was ever blessed with a better mother than I."

With these words, Charlotte Mills daughter of Mrs. Eleanor Mills slain with the Rev. Edward W. Hall, in New Jersey, made her stage debut here.

Gowned in black, Charlotte was cast as the daughter of a murdered woman in a play entitled "Who's Guilty," which was staged despite threatened opposition by the clergy.

NORTH POLE PLANE OFF ON ITS LAST FLIGHT

New York, Dec. 21 (I.N.S.).—The Josephine Ford, the aeroplane in which Commander Richard E. Byrd flew over the North Pole, was on its last flight today. With Floyd G. Bennett, who took part in the Polar flight at the controls the aeroplane started for Detroit, where it will be put away in Henry Ford's transportation museum.

A stop will be made in Cleveland, where Commander Byrd will be picked up. The flight to Detroit will be resumed tomorrow.

INHERITS JOB AS CHAPLAIN

Manila, Dec. 21 (A.P.).—Archbishop Michael J. O'Doherty of the diocese of Manila was ordered today by Judge R. Harvey of the Court of First Instance to pay 173,000 pesos as rents and income to Paul Roserio Gonzales, nearest relative to the founder of a famous old chaplaincy here.

The court ordered the archbishop to appoint Gonzales chaplain and pay him 1,000 pesos monthly pending final settlement of his case but allowed the ecclesiastic to deduct minor expenses for administration.

Through the will of Dona Petronila de Guzman, who died in March, 1818, a collative chaplaincy was founded in Manila and several buildings were donated to the archbishopric for its maintenance. The archbishop was made administrator, with the obligation of appointing a relative of Dona Petronila as chaplain.

The last occupant of the chaplaincy was the father of Gonzales, who resigned in 1909. The chaplaincy has been vacant since, and the younger Gonzales brought suit, alleging that provisions of the will were not being carried out.

DILLON FIGHTS GOODYEAR SUIT TO OUST HIM

Akron, O., Dec. 21.—Dismissal of the suit brought by nine stockholders of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company, to oust Clarence Dillon, Dillon, Read and Company, and other bankers from control of the company, was asked in answers filed in court today. They also seek an accounting of its affairs since they took control in 1921.

The answers, entered by Dillon, his company, and the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company, denied charges that the defendants had wrongfully made profits of approximately $18,000,000, for which an accounting had been asked, and defended as legal all transactions in the reorganization.

STEPHENSON ASKS FOR HABEAS CORPUS WRIT

Michigan City, Ind., Dec. 21 (I.N.S.).—A petition for a writ of habeas corpus for the removal from the state penitentiary here of D. C. Stephenson, former grand dragon of the Indiana Ku Klux Klan, now serving a life sentence for the murder of Miss Madge Oberholtzer, Butler College co-ed, was filed in the Superior Court here today by Stephenson's attorneys. Judge Harry L. Crumpacker fixed 9 o'clock Thursday for the hearing.

Man Mailing Cards Sends in Double Fire Alarm

The attempt of an aged man to mail a quantity of Christmas cards and letters in Box 252 opposite the Glenwood School in Malden sent in a double alarm immediately after opening of school today.

Frantic parents of children at the school rushed to the scene, fearing for the safety of the youngsters.

Firemen rescued the correspondence, saw that it was properly mailed and conducted the old man to the home of friends with whom he is staying at No. 47 Grace street, nearby.

SCORE RESCUED IN SPRINGFIELD BLAZE

Springfield, Dec. 21.—A score of persons was carried down ladders by police and firemen to safety early today and a hundred forced to the streets in their night clothes when fire swept the four-story tenement at Nos. 2158-68 Main street.

Patrolman Albert J. LaGarry, carrying an aged man through the smoke filled halls, fell headlong down a flight of stairs. The old man was uninjured, while the policeman suffered a broken leg and dislocated shoulder. The fire started in the basement.

GAS KILLS GIRL AND 2 MEN IN R. I. HOMES

Providence, R. I., Dec. 21.—A twelve-year-old girl and two elderly brothers are dead from gas escaping in two homes, one in Providence and the other in Pawtucket.

The seven members of the family of George F. Mellen of No. 91 Central street were found unconscious on the kitchen floor of their home today. All were in their night clothing and evidently became unconscious while trying to make their way to the kitchen door. All were resuscitated except Barbara, aged 12, who died a short time after police broke into the place.

At Pawtucket, Edward and Arthur McAloon, brothers, aged about 60 were found dead of asphyxiation at their home, No. 207 North Main street.

BLAME WOMAN FOR LIFE TERM GIVEN MALVEY

"Cherchez la femme—find the woman"—a trite old saying, but seldom overlooked by the police.

Today police, after investigation, arraigned Mrs. Sarah Reyberg o Amherst street, Arlington, in East Cambridge district court and blamed her for the plight of John F. Malvey who was recently returned to State Prison for life after violating his parole.

Malvey was sent back to live and die inside the grim walls after he hit his wife, Mrs. Agnes Malvey, in their home in Forrest avenue, Arlington.

Mrs. Reyberg, although freed by Judge Stone of charges of illegally keeping and exposing liquor for sale and of selling liquor to Malvey, was found guilty of assault and battery on Malvey's wife. And Judge Stone said:

"There is no doubt in my mind that she is the cause of Malvey's being back in State Prison now. Moreover, it is my opinion she committed perjury on the witness stand here today."

Appealing a sentence of three months in the House of Correction, Mrs. Reyberg was held in $500 bail for trial later in Superior Court. She was acquitted on the liquor charges because of insufficient evidence.

Malvey's wife took the stand and testified that she surprised her husband and Mrs. Reyberg in the hall of their home and was struck by both. She identified a fur coat as one she believed Mrs. Reyberg left behind her in flight.

Police Chief Urquhart of Arlington testified that Malvey told him of buying liquor from Mrs. Reyberg. The defendant denied all the charges.

GOVERNOR BRINGS SMILE BACK ON THE JOB

FIRST DAY AT DESK

Bay State's chief executive, looking extremely well after his European trip, evidently did not devote all his time to play, as he says he has his message nearly completed.

ESCAPES DEATH IN FIRE BLAST

James Brobecker, 45, of No. 223 Chelsea street, East Boston, a watchman, narrowly escaped death by suffocation today when an explosion of chemicals started a fire in the plant of the New England Electrotype Co., No. 108 Purchase street.

The flames swept through the top story of the four-story building and for a time threatened adjoining structures in the district. Damage was estimated at $3,000 by Chief Sennott.

Brobecker had started on his regular tour of inspection and was riding up on the elevator when smoke began to drift down the elevator shaft.

He rode up past the second floor, when the elevator stalled, and was forced to kick open the second floor door and squeeze himself through a narrow opening between the bottom of the car and the top of the door.

Brobecker then ran up stairs to the fourth floor, where he was met by a suffocating cloud of smoke.

FIRE MENACED SHIP IN PORT; CARGO UNLOADED

With underwriters standing by, unable to estimate damage that will probably run high into thousands, the cargo of the Shipping Board steamship West Celine was unloaded today at the Army Base, following the fire extinguished by fireboat engine 44 at the end of a two-day race to port with two holds smoldering. The cargo of cotton, grain and tobacco, destined for Hamburg and Bremen, will be viewed when the unloading is completed and prior to the drydocking of the ship. A cargo of pencil wood, bound for Germany, is believed to be a total loss. The fire, which started while the ship was 150 miles south of Nantucket shoals, is believed to have been caused by a short circuit.

$90,000,000 FOR SOAP; SOMEBODY IS WASHING

Kansas City, Kan., Dec. 20 (A.P.)—Consolidation of the Palm Olive Soap Company and Peet Bros., laundry soap manufacturers of this city, was approved by stockholders of the latter company.

The merger will be effective Jan. 1, approval already having been given by stockholders of the Palm Olive concern. Annual sales of the new corporation, which will manufacture both toilet and laundry soaps, are expected to total $90,000,000.

FIVE-YEAR JUMP IN USE OF ELECTRICITY 51 P. C.

Washington, Dec. 21 (A.P.)—During the five-year period 1920-25, there was a 51 per cent. increased consumption of electricity in the United States and in some States a report by the geological survey asserted the increase ranged higher than 55 per cent.

In actual increase the middle Atlantic States led with 5,950,000,000 kilowatt hours. The increased production in all States aggregated 22,315,000,000 kilowatt hours.

The percentage increase in New England was 42.

PORTSMOUTH WRECKING CREW IS TRANSFERRED

Portsmouth, N. H., Dec. 21 (A.P.)—The wrecking train and crew which from its station here has served the old Eastern Railroad and Boston & Maine for more than 50 years is soon to be transferred to Dover.

This is [illegible] line with the policy of the railroad to make the western loop of the Portland division the main line. During its half century of service the train has been in charge of only four masters, Edward A. Ferguson, John H. Rose, Edward A. Weeks and Howard Locke.

2 KILLED BY SHOTS IN NEW YORK; 1 FROM AUTO

New York, Dec. 21 (A.P.)—Two men were shot to death here today, one of them from a passing automobile. Police do not connect the two shootings, however, as they happened at widely separated places.

One of the men, Joseph Kelly, also known as "White," detectives said, was shot after a quarrel with an acquaintance in a West Sixty-fourth street speakeasy.

The other man was unidentified. A woman's scream in the car from which the shot was fired in front of an apartment house on West One Hundred and Sixty-fourth street first attracted attention, police said.

DAYLIGHT MILLINERY SECTION—THIRD FLOOR

FULLER, AGAIN AT DESK, SEES NO TAX CUT

Plunging into his work at the State House today after an absence of six weeks in Europe, Governor Fuller expressed great happiness in being home again.

That the Governor had not devoted his entire vacation to play was revealed when he was asked about his inaugural message.

"I have my message about three-quarters finished," he declared with a smile.

The Governor expressed great interest in the attitude of some of the insurance companies in refusing to cover taxicabs and renting cars. He made no secret of the fact that he is heartily in favor of the compulsory insurance law which, he pointed out, was enacted solely for the purpose of protecting the lives of men, women and children killed on the highways through no fault of their own.

Little likelihood of any reduction in State taxes was seen by the Governor.

"If someone will tell us how we can reduce taxes and secure the needed revenue to run the business of the public that would be an extremely valuable suggestion," he said.

Everybody wants taxes reduced, he said, but everybody is interested in lowering the levy on the particular thing in which he is interested.

Amplifying his remarks on the Sacco-Vanzetti case, the Governor intimated in no uncertain manner that the case will be thoroughly gone over by him in the event that it comes to his desk for action.

The Governor said the case is a serious one and should be studied from the ground up. He also disclosed that he had not followed the case closely and for that reason would be all the more anxious to scrutinize every angle of it.

MUSSOLINI CABLES COMMERCE CHAMBER

Benito Mussolini, Italian "Duce," today completed the list of the heads of foreign governments who have expressed good will toward New England in connection with the recent Chamber of Commerce Week.

His cablegram received by Andrew J. Peters, president of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, reads:

"I thank you for your courteous cablegram and cordially reciprocate the wish of a more and more fruitful development of our relations with your country."

2,252 Deer Killed in Massachusetts This Season

Official figures compiled by Director of Fisheries and Game William C. Adams discloses that all records for deer killing were smashed during the week of the open season which began December 6. The number taken was 2,252.

The previous high number was in 1924 when 2,020 were slain. This year to date, the State paid to farmers $14,702.77 for damage which the animals caused to crops. A year ago the amount paid was but $5,397.

BOOTLEGGER, OWN BEST CUSTOMER, FINED $500

Springfield, Dec. 21 (A.P.)—Harry Wilson, thirty-one, who admitted that his downfall as a moonshine maker was due to his attempt to drink up the considerable profits from the business, was fined $500 in district court today with a jail sentence suspended on condition that he avoid liquor in any form.

He admitted complete disillusionment. He was arrested when drunk, he having shot up and wrecked his household.

GOOD TURKEYS COST 75C. PER

You've got to pay 75 cents or even 80 cents a pound to get really good turkeys, according to the survey committee appointed by the Boston Retail Meat Dealers' Association.

These birds are from Northern New York, Vermont and New Hampshire, and, despite the fact that there will be turkeys in the market at 40 cents the pound before Christmas, the survey committee of the association declares them of poor quality and hardly worth the buying.

KING GEORGE'S XMAS GIFTS JEWELRY TO FAMILY

Sandringham, Eng., Dec. 21 (A.P.).—King George's Christmas gifts to the members of his family are to be chiefly articles of jewelry, but just what he is to give the Queen, and vice versa, remains, by tradition, a secret.

The Queen's remembrance to the Prince of Wales includes cuff links of the enamelled racquets, mindful of his recent splendid play in the army squash racquets championships.

An Oriental touch will be given to the royal Christmas this year owing to the arrival of Prince George, the youngest son, from the Far East, where he served as a naval lieutenant. He brought with him a wealth of carved ivory, ebony, lacquer and old china.

The gifts will be distributed at the royal breakfast table.

Christmas Masses

There will be two midnight masses in the Church of the Most Precious Blood, Hyde Park, Friday night, on the eve of Christmas. The pastor, the Rev. Henry T. Grady, has arranged to have a mass in the chapel of the church to take care of the overflow, while the solemn high mass will be celebrated in the auditorium of the church.

RESCUES CHILD FROM DEATH IN FLAMES

Her clothing aflame as she lay in bed in her home, No. 203 C street, South Boston, four-year-old Florence Ross was rescued today by Jail Officer Patrick Barrett, who lives across the street.

Barrett met a child crying in front of the Ross house and learned that her sister was in peril. The policeman broke in a door, wrapped the burning little girl in a blanket and extinguished the flames.

Then he carried little Florence to the street and attempted to induce a physician to take her to the hospital in his car, but the doctor was busy towing another machine and refused, it was said.

The Station 6 ambulance finally arrived and took the child to Carney Hospital, where her name was placed on the danger list. Barrett failed to learn how the little girl's clothing was ignited.

BROOKLINE DIVORCEE WEDS NAVAL OFFICER

Mrs. Leicester S. Raynor of Brookline, divorced from her husband last month, was married today to Lieut. John Gibson Cross, U. S. N., by the city clerk in New York, according to reports sent to friends of the couple.

The ceremony was performed directly after the couple had received a license in the clerk's office. The new Mrs. Cross was formerly Elizabeth Webster Passano of Brookline.

MEXICAN PRESS PRINTS HEARST EDITORIAL

Mexico City, Dec. 21 (Universal).—The editorial on Mexico in the Hearst Sunday papers was the leading topic in Mexico City newspapers, both El Universal and Excelsior giving a five column front page play with the complete text.

The papers played up Mr. Hearst's references to President Wilson's errors in his Mexican policy with the suggestion that the United States and Mexico do not want war but must live together in friendship.

Particular prominence is given to the declaration that it is an error for Mexico to drive out foreign capital. Both papers direct attention to the effect of the editorial in the United States on account of the wide publicity in the Hearst papers which reach millions of readers.

LAKE ENGULFS VILLAGE IN ASIATIC EARTHQUAKE

Moscow, Dec. 21 (I.N.S.)—An earthquake, accompanied by a violent subsidence of soil, was reported today in Turkestan, 100 miles north of Tashkent. A lake formed, engulfing a village, but no casualties were reported. Kirghiz was rocked by a quake. Scientists are of the opinion that vast subterranean changes are taking place in Central Asia.

ENGINEER FLIRTS WITH HIS GIRL; TRIES TRAIN WRECK

Memphis, Tenn., Dec. 21 (A.P.).—The Memphis Commercial Appeal said today that Alfred Busher, 22, has confessed to an attempt to wreck an Illinois Central passenger train because the engineer had "flirted" with his 15-year-old sweetheart as the train sped past her home near Hickman, Ky.

Busher, an employe on the farm of the girl's father, was arrested several days ago, the dispatch says. He gave his name as Joe Taylor of Cape Girardeau, Mo., but revealed his identity and confessed that he had sawed three stringers nearly apart on a bridge over which the engineer's train would run.

Busher said he did not think of what might happen to passengers, but only desired revenge on the engineer.

Busher left his place of employment immediately after his act, but the bridge held for three days before the damage was discovered.

Watchman Killed by Fall

Falling five stories in an elevator well, Thomas Hindsbee, a watchman, was killed today at the Charles River Stores, No. 131 Beverly street, North End. He lived at No. 73 Putnam street, Watertown.

TAX CIGARETTES IN KANSAS CITY

Kansas City, Dec. 21 (A.P.)—The City Council has voted a 20 per cent. tax on the retail cost of cigarettes sold in Kansas City in addition to charging all dealers an annual license fee of $1 to sell them.

Passage of the measure, which becomes effective Jan. 1, was preceded by the adoption of a resolution pledging the council to use the additional revenue derived from the tax to amortize the judgment bonds, increase firemen's salaries and install additional street lights.

The tax is expected to yield $250,000 a year.

COUP MADE TO BAR POLAND

Kovno, Lithuania, Dec. 21 (A.P.)—Augustine Valdemaras, premier in the government formed following Friday's coup d'etat, charged in an interview today that extremists, supported by the late government, had openly prepared to seize power, which would have given a pretext for Polish intervention.

Moreover, he declared, the government had openly favored the Bolshevists. The army saw the red danger threatening the country's independence, and therefore overthrew the feeble administration.

594 WASHINGTON STREET

OPERA GARAGE BAN UPHELD

The action of Fire Marshal George C. Neal in revoking a permit issued to the Opera Garage, Inc., at 127 St. Stephen street, Back Bay, was today upheld by Commissioner of Public Safety Alfred F. Foote. The permit was originally issued by the Boston street commissioners. Neal's decision was put up to Foote on an appeal.

One of the principal objectors to the garage was Dr. William E. Gardner, rector of the Church of the Messiah, who pleaded that the district was an educational centre. On the site, he said, a student dormitory could be built.

Another objector was Judge Philip E. Parker, representing the trustees of the church. Judge Parker urged the commissioner to "help us keep it a residential district for the safety of young girls."

BIG JUMP IN INCOME TAX

Washington, Dec. 21 (I.N.S.)—December income tax collections have far exceeded expectations and will be the largest last quarter payments in the last five years, the treasury announced today. Collections up to Saturday were $303,573,000, about $41,000,000 ahead of last year. The total will equal the September collections of $442,000,000, officials said.

Collections for the year are $921,185,000, or $164,000,000 ahead of last year. The present surplus is $70,000,000 ahead of last year, which indicates, officials said, that the year's surplus would be about $300,000,000.

CALLED TO TESTIFY
Patrolman Joseph P. Cullinane told how he helped Officer Randall get his "victim" to police station.

2 PATROLMEN NAME RANDALL

H. Curran and Joseph P. Cullinane of the Dudley street station.

These officers, it was divulged, assisted Randall in carrying Ramsey's body to the patrol box, not knowing of the incidents that had preceded.

The two Dudley street patrolmen were brought forward by Captain Richard Fitzgerald of the Dudley street station.

According to Captain Fitzgerald the officers reported that on the night of December 5 they had been detailed to dance halls in Roxbury, and after their detail, one officer offered to drive the other home to South Boston.

Their reports say that when they were in Southampton street they saw an officer dragging the limp body of a man. It appeared to them that the officer needed help and they volunteered their services, they said, not telling the officer they were policemen.

They assisted the officer to load Ramsey into the machine and drove to Box 23 on Division 9, thinking the officer was a new man on their division. When they arrived Randall said: "No, take him to my box a little further over," they reported.

One of the officers took a good look at Randall and recognized him, they said, and asked him what he was doing, to which Randall replied, according to their report, "A citizen told me there was a drunk up here and I was afraid he would freeze, so I came over to get him."

WIFE FORGIVES AT DEATHBED

pending arrest for an admitted theft from the United States mails.

LEAVES FAREWELL NOTE.

Stoffel, after writing his terse farewell, shot himself in his room in an apartment house in Commonwealth avenue, Brighton. His farewell read:

"Forgive me, God and May. I am not going to stand it any longer. Louis."

Four years ago Stoffel left his wife and family to live apart, although continuing to contribute to their support.

A few hours before the shooting he went accompanied by the mysterious "other woman"—to the Postoffice Building at the request of his superiors, and there Stoffel learned that by using a marked package of silk lingerie, inspectors had trapped him in a theft.

According to Postal Inspector J. J. Breslin, Stoffel confessed his guilt and left the Postoffice after being told that he would be arrested some time today.

Then came the shot that ploughed through the mail clerk's head from temple to temple and brought George M. Edgarton rushing into his room in alarm. Stoffel lay on the floor, the smoking revolver in his hand, and Edgarton sent for the police.

"He left us four years ago, saying he wanted to live his own life, but he continued to pay for the support of our children," said Mrs. Helen Drew Stoffel, who lives at the Old Colony Chambers in Somerset street.

"I have been daily expecting he was going to sue me for divorce. When the bell rang, as they came to tell me of his shooting, I thought it was notification of a suit. Instead I learned he was dying."

The children are living with relatives in the country. Stoffel used a .32 calibre revolver in shooting himself, and Dr. John I. Thompson of Glenville avenue, who ordered him removed to the hospital, said it was remarkable that he did not die immediately.

The bullet entered through the right temple, passed through his head and emerged near the left temple. Doctors say he cannot live.

SAVE HARVARD BOOKS AT FIRE

Valuable Harvard law books were saved today by volunteers organized by Dean Roscoe L. Pound of Harvard Law School as fire caused damage of $5,000 to the Old Kendall House at No. 1563 Massachusetts avenue, Cambridge.

Discovering the fire, Dean Pound gave the alarm and rounded up a force of students, leading them in to save the books. Faculty members aided in the work.

Starting from a defective flue on the second floor where a wood fire was burning in a fireplace, the flames spread through the second story and to the roof of the two-and-a-half story wooden structure.

While firemen were still fighting the last of the flames on the roof, Dean Pound and other Law School professors sat down to their scheduled luncheon in their meeting room on the first floor.

Besides a faculty meeting place, the housee is used as a study room by students. The library is considered a valuable supplement to the books of the main Law School library.

and probably more than $200,000,000 cash on hand.

Annual interest paid out by the government has been reduced about $75,000,000 in the last eighteen months. Treasury experts predicted that by June 30, 1927, the public debt will be cut to about $18,500,000,000, a reduction of $6,640,000,000 in seven years.

More than half of the year's debt reduction was from payments of foreign powers, amounting to $195,234,000, and the June 30 surplus of $377,000,000.

In the next six months foreign debt payments of about $95,000,000 will go into debt retirement. The surplus for the year expected to reach $500,000,000, also goes to the public debt, following refusal of Congress to authorize a tax credit.

ARMY PLANES START FLIGHT

lery Brigade at Fort Sam Houston, presented "good luck" medals to the officers, explaining that they would bring happy fortune to the eleven pioneers of air and sea. He said the gifts were from Mrs. Malone.

High officers of the army were present to see the ships away. General Patrick, as chief of the air service gave the men their last word of advice and farewell. He told them the flight was the most momentuous ever undertaken by the army and that its benefits to the United States and South America were inestimable.

The wives of six pilots said last farewells to their husbands, and the mother of the only bachelor of the ten, Captain A. B. McDaniel of San Antonio, was present to wish her boy godspeed. Motion pictures of the wives and pilots were taken. The six wives are: Mrs. H. A. Dargue, Mrs. I. C. Eaker, Mrs. B. S. Thompson, Mrs. L. D. Weddington, Mrs. J. W. Benton and Mrs. Charles McK. Robinson.

FIRST MILE SMOOTH.

The first mile of the 22,000-mile journey, the path of which is laid over tortuous mountains, across desert wastes and over boundless seas, was perhaps an augury of smooth and happy sailing to the journey's end.

The great yellow-winged, birdlike flying boats skimmed along the mile stretch of the field concrete runway with what officers called "sweet speed," their glistening bodies giving something of a gleeful adieu to the Texas mud which yesterday held them fast in their earthbound tracks.

With Major H. A. Dargue in command, guiding the great ship New York, the planes glided along the runway and were off in a twinkling.

The other pilots followed quickly. The beak-like prows of their ships carry the names of five American cities to at least eight cities of the Southern Continent, and the planes' quivering sides are emblazoned with the American Eagle, whose spreading wings bear this Republic's colors and emblem to the republics of the south. They were in "V" formation.

In the New York with Major Herbert A. Dargue, commander, was Lieutenant E. C. Whitehead.

The San Antonio was second to take off, with Captain A. B. McDaniel at the wheel and Lieutenant C. McK. Robinson in the cockpit with him. The San Antonio skidded off the runway slightly and rose just above the heads of men taking pictures. One of the men had to duck to save himself from being hit.

Then followed the other machines at minute intervals, the San Francisco, with Captain Ira C. Baker and Lieutenant Muir S. Fairchild, the Detroit with Captain Clinton F. Woolsey and Lieutenant John W. Benton, and the St. Louis with Lieutenants B. S. Thompson and L. D. Weddington.

ESCORT PLANES.

Following the five flight planes, an escort of six planes, which will accompany the fliers to Brownsville, Tex., their first stop, went into the air.

The amphibians will land at Point Isabelle, on the Gulf of Mexico, according to plans. After a night at Brownsville, the "around the horn" fliers will proceed to Vera Cruz early tomorrow, whence they take off for Mexico City.

With the take-off at Kelly Field, the fliers started a four and a half months' journey, which will bring them back to the United States at Miami, Fla. The itinerary calls for a visit to 27 countries, with plenty of time to be allowed for visits at each capital.

OLD CRABTREE PLAYBILLS ARE INTRODUCED

Sere and yellow playbills of the eighties, when dainty "Lotta" was the darling of theatrical audiences, were introduced today into the Crabtree will contest hearing before Judge Prest in Suffolk Probate Court.

The bills were introduced as exhibits by Attorney James M. Hoy of counsel for Mrs. Carlotta Cockburn, one of the contestants, mainly to show that from 1874 to 1879 Jack Crabtree was not with his sister Lotta as manager. It was brought out that he became manager of the Park Theatre in Boston in 1889.

The playbills, attractively illustrated, showed Lotta, as she was known, in various roles in what has since been referred to as "clean and refined c[illegible]."

A playbill of 1886 hailed "the incomparable comedienne Lotta in her great specialty play, 'The Little Detective; or a Woman's Curiosity,'" in which Lotta played six parts.

Also in 1886 Lotta gave "Little Nell and the Marchioness."

"Musette, or Little Bright Eyes, was produced in 1880 with the favorite in the title role, the program adding; that it "explained the definition of six degrees of love. Well, Well, yes, you see the sensations are varied. First stage—The meeting, the sensation is uncertain; Second stage—the Moonlight Walk, the sensation is blissful; Third stage—The First Kiss, the sensation is angelic; Fourth stage—The First Quarrel, the sensation is suicidal; Fifth stage—The Reconciliation, the sensation is ethereal; Sixth stage—Sacked for another fellow, ... "

LOTTA IN "LA CIGALE"

Lotta also appeared in "La Cigale, or a Wild Farcical Conceit," "Zip, or Point Lynde Licht," "The Pet of the Petticoats," as Paul nicknamed Poll or the Pet; "Nan, the Good-For-Nothing," "Uncle Tom's Cabin," "Firefly," and "Nitouche."

Programs were also introduced for "A Night's Frolic" and "Bootle's Baby," which were presented at the Park Theatre, Boston in 1891 and 1889 respectively, but in which Lotta took no part.

Attorney Hoy offered a page from "The Stage," of November 21, 1878, on which was the memorandum that "Miss Lotta" was absent from New York for two years. A program of the Park Theatre of 1879 was also entered showing R. E. Stevens was manager.

Attorney Hoy also offered playbills of the California Theatre of 1874 in which Lotta appeared in her specialties, "The Pet of the Petticoats," and "Nan, the Good-for-Nothing." Between the acts Lotta, the Incomparable, was scheduled to do a clog dance and a banjo solo.

WILL IS EVIDENCE.

The will of Lotta Crabtree remained definitely as evidence in the contest hearing today, when Judge Prest refused to change his ruling of yesterday, despite the objections of counsel for Cockburn, claimant.

Attorney Hoy protested that Lotta Crabtree was mentally unbalanced when she made the will.

Judge Prest replied. "The court will not be swayed by the generousness of her bequests or her liberality to charity. The admittance of the will as a declaration of a dead person and also is evidence I thought would be more helpful than harmful in that it might have some bearing on kinship and also on the interests of certain witnesses.

"You took an attitude of resentment yesterday when I suggested it should be offered, but I assure you I acted in a spirit of helpfulness. I am frank with you, Mr. Hoy."

"May I apologize," Attorney Hoy replied, "for my nasty manner. Your Honor knows me for a good many years and you know my impulsiveness often leads to indiscreet remarks, but Your Honor knows my manner is spontaneous and the things I say or do are easily forgotten.

"Your Honor knows when you rule on the admittance of a will the court also rules on competence, good faith and knowledge of the deceased, the issues of the will which we chiefly contest."

The court declared nevertheless he would let the ruling stand, and agreed to save Attorney Hoy's exceptions.

The remainder of the day was to be devoted to arguments on the law of Arizona as to marriage and common law marriage. The arguments made by the administrators were prepared by Alfred J. Franklin, former chief justice of the Superior Court of Arizona, who was in the court room.

JAP EMPEROR BETTER, OFFICIAL STATEMENT

Tokio, Dec. 21 (A.P.).—Vice-Minister Sekiya of the household department issued a statement today to the press of Tokio saying the condition of Emperor Yoshihito has shown improvement since yesterday. The statement says the Emperor is taking food twice daily, but his condition does not warrant absolute optimism.

DEMANDS PROBE OF TAX-DODGING CORPORATIONS

Washington, Dec. 21 (I.N.S.)—An investigation into alleged evasion of tax payments by big corporations through the expedient of voting large stock dividends, recently declared non-taxable by the Supreme court of the United States, was requested in a resolution introduced today by Senator Norris, Republican, of Nebraska. Norris' resolution, which was temporarily tabled, called on the Federal Trade Commission to furnish the Senate with a report on all stock dividends since the court decision, together with the capitalization of the corporations issuing them.

BLACK STOCKINGS? WHY THIS IS THE YEAR '26!

Chicago, Dec. 21 (A.P.).—Black silk stockings, formerly the acme of elegance, seem to have disappeared forever, said the head of a large stocking factory today in a survey of Christmas business.

Present emphasis on stockings as a leading detail of the costume is so great, he said, that women will have nothing but the sheerest and most subtly colore dhose, with the demand for light colors.

Sale of silk hose for Christmas gifts is breaking all previous records, the survey indicated, with Chicago's bill for gift stockings probably $2,000,000, and that for the nation $50,000,000.

A word to the WIVES—

P. A. says "MERRY CHRISTMAS" in capital letters

"NO MORE WORRYIN'," as the song says, about what to give the man who smokes a pipe. Here is the National Joy Smoke, Prince Albert, all fussed up in holiday attire. A gift to gladden his heart on the Big Day; a generous supply to keep him happy.

Peeping out of the special Christmas carton is the pound crystal-glass humidor with sponge-moistener top. A container to grace any smoking-stand or office-desk. As practical as it is good-looking. Best of all, it contains Prince Albert—mild, mellow, and fragrant!

In addition to the glass humidor, there are pound and half-pound tins of this same wonderful tobacco. It's the tobacco, after all, that counts. Experienced smokers know that no other tobacco is like P. A. for sheer pipe-enjoyment, day in and day out.

Take out your Christmas list now. Alongside the name of every pipe-smoker write "Prince Albert." This is the happy solution of the annual problem so far as the men-folks are concerned. It will save your time and give others the time of their lives.

P. A. is sold everywhere in tidy red tins, pound and half-pound tin humidors, and pound crystal-glass humidors with sponge-moistener top. And always with every bit of bite and parch removed by the Prince Albert process.

PRINCE ALBERT
—no other tobacco is like it!

Gifts For Both

Our Window Workshop
For years many people have been interested in watching our Court St. Window Workshop. Perhaps you have never seen it. If not, stop today and watch our "workers in amber" making rare and beautiful articles.

It seems as if our skilled workers in amber and meerschaum have endeavored to outdo themselves this year in the fashioning of unique and beautiful gift articles.

There are wondrous things of amber for "Her"; artistic necklaces, brooches of quaint design, and ear pendants of both conservative and bizarre patterns.

For "Him" there is an endless variety of "he man" gifts. Pipes of delicately carved meerschaum, or if he prefers them, hundreds of styles of the sturdiest briars; cigarette and cigar holders of pure amber or a thousand and one other articles to gladden the heart of any smoker. Ehrlich offers gifts for both "he" and "she."

Norma Talmadge Studies Role in "The Dove"

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

Universal Service Motion Picture Editor

LOS ANGELES, Dec. ...—I doubt if Norma Talmadge will do very ... between "Camille" and "The Dove." Even now while she is working on Dumas' play she is talking and thinking of Belasco's more modern tale. Holbrook Blinn, who played in "The Dove" on the stage, by the by, has a great success in "The Play's the Thing" and is likely to be kept before the footlights for the next two years.

Norma Talmadge

RAYMOND HITCHCOCK'S WELL SHOD FEET, encased in a pair of shapeless old shoes, attracted more attention than the arrival of any ten stars at the Montmartre. Hitchy's battle scars were received in action while he was playing in "The Monkey Talks."

... Hitchy's toe. He said the doctors told him ...

... Hitchy, "it doesn't make me want to return to the stage ..."

CARL LAEMMLE, JR., NOT ONLY HAS AMBITIONS to be a producer of collegiate stories but he aims to be the Columbus of the movies. My attention was attracted to a lad that he had chosen to play leads in the coming Universal series.

THE QUESTION OF WHETHER LEW CODY should live in Mabel Normand's house or Mabel move her belongings to Lew's house has been amicably settled, for the Christmas holidays at least.

Excerpt From Radio Page, Boston American, December 3rd

This is the case with the 1927 Hudson Super Six. In this receiver our tests gave a very smooth and quality reproduction. Three tubes are used in the amplifier so as not to overload the transformers. Carefully matched units are evident upon examination.

Mr. Edward Rogal, formerly an instructor at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, gives as his opinion of the new 1927 six-tube the following: "The manner in which it (Hudson super six) withstood all our tests amazed us." Mr. Rogal worked a complete test upon this set. His opinion, while couched in technicalities really means: "It is the best six-tube set of the 1927 variety."

A Thrilling Romance of Modern Hub Youth

READ THIS FIRST

HONEY LOU HUNTLEY is private secretary to old "GRUMPY" WALLACK, head of the Wallack factory in Roxbury

Everyone likes Honey Lou from ANN LUDLOW, the office vamp, to JOE MEADOWS, the shipping clerk.

Young JACK WALLACK comes to work in his father's factory. He falls in love with Honey Lou and she with him

At a party given by ANGELA ALLEN, in love with Jack Honey Lou drinks two cocktails, thinking they are fruit punch

TIM DONEGAL, a friend of Jack's, begins to be attentive. One night when the two are at an out of town inn, with Honey Lou's half sister, MARGRET MOODY, and DR. STEVE MAYHEW, they are joined by Angela and Jack. Margret sums Angela up as a "cat."

One night while Margret is out on her Summer vacation, her supposed sweetie, Dr. Mayhew, he begins to make love to Honey Lou. Honey Lou is astounded.

Jack is angrily jealous with Honey Lou because she let Steve come to the house in Margret's absence. The day Margret comes home, Lou and she stop at the factory to get some money. Margret overhears someone talking in "Grumpy's" office, and eavesdrops.

Jack finds Lou taking part in a Charleston contest in a picture show. He is shocked and disgusted, just as her mother is, and cannot see what a lark it is for Honey Lou.

Honey Lou makes up her mind to leave the Wallack factory, and forget Jack if she can

TRUSTEE NAMED FOR HOWARD

Haverhill, Dec. 21.—On petition of Albert G. Howard, former Princeton football star Henry V. Cunningham has been appointed conservator for his father, John F. Howard, millionare manufacturer, formerly of this city but now of Mexico.

In his petition the younger Howard charges that his father, who has twice married within a year in Mexico after obtaining a divorce there from Mrs. Marguerite Howard of this city, is unable to properly handle his affairs. Young Howard assigns advanced age and mental weakness are responsible for his father's condition. The conservator was appointed by Salem Probate Court.

This action ends litigation of long standing, which began last January shortly before Howard is alleged to

900 COMMUTERS ESCAPE IN WRECK OF EXPRESS

Westfield, N. J., Dec. 21 (A.P.)—Nine hundred New York bound commuters, on a local express of the Central Railroad of New Jersey escaped injury or death today when the locomotive of an eastbound Baltimore & Ohio express ran through an open switch and sideswiped the coach of the Central train. No one was injured in the crash although the coach was lifted from the track. George G. [illegible] of Baltimore engineer, said he did not see the signal set against him in time to stop.

QUINCY BOY HURT WHEN HIT BY AUTO

Spencer Trevains, the 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Trevains of No. 57 Nightingale avenue, South Quincy, was injured by an automobile near the corner of Brooks avenue and Intervale street, Quincy.

The automobile was operated by Joseph Marini of No. 196 West street, West Quincy, who said the boy ran across Brooks avenue at such a speed that he could not stop and ran against the rear end of the automobile.

SOUTH BOSTON MEN HELD IN SOMERVILLE BREAK

Charged with breaking and entering the cellar of No. 18 Tree avenue, West Somerville, Harold L. Drummond and James J. King both of South Boston, were held for the Superior Court by Judge Sturtevant in the Somerville District Court.

Drummond's bail being $10,000 and that of King, against whom there were two complaints, $15,000. The two men are also wanted by the Medford and Winchester police for breaking an entering.

PROVIDENCE SAVED DUCE, IS BELIEF OF POPE

Rome, Dec. 21.—A sensational feature of the secret consistory of the Sacred College after the elevation of Monsignors Lorenzi Lori Papal Nuncio to Poland, and Giuseppe Gamba, Archbishop of Turin, to the cardinate, was the solemn declaration of the Pope's belief that Premier Mussolini's life was preserved from assassins by Providence. The Pope lauded the Duce for his devotion to Italy.

2 TECH RIOTERS FINED AND 2 ACQUITTED

Two Technology "rioters" were found guilty today and two other students on trial were acquitted by Judge Palmer in Roxbury district court.

Charles F. Lyons [illegible] and Arnold A. Smith of [illegible] were found guilty of [illegible] and [illegible] public assembly.

Lyons was fined $[illegible] on each of the two counts and Smith was fined $15 on each count. Both appealed and were released [illegible]

Sidney C. Hardwick [illegible] Boston and Prescott [illegible] were found not guilty of [illegible] damage to the Tent ballroom [illegible] wanton [illegible] assault and battery on Miss Rebecca May Dotson of Roxbury.

FOUND NOT GUILTY

Both Lyons and Smith were acquitted [illegible] Lyons was found not guilty of assault and battery on James E. Nixon, Jr., of Roxbury, who, with Miss Dotson, was in the automobile that Tech students stopped and wrecked.

"This sort of thing ought to be stopped [illegible] Technology [illegible] said Judge Palmer [illegible] It is worse than a [illegible] no one can tell what [illegible] lead to."

The trials resulted from the riotous parading of Tech sophomores and freshmen through Boston and Cambridge streets on the night of November 4.

Judge Palmer said he fined Smith less than Lyons because the former was young and not familiar with city ways. For Lyons he said he found no extenuating circumstances.

BLAMES LYONS

"Lyons was born here, he is older and there is no doubt that he was in the forefront and was pretty nearly everywhere on that night," said Judge Palmer.

Lyons is poor. His father is a watchman and it is something of a hardship for the family to keep the boy in college," said Attorney John W. McAnarney, in asking for leniency.

Both McAnarney and Attorney Thomas D. Lavelle, counsel for Smith and Crout, asked that the punishment be limited to fines, after Judge Palmer refused to consider probation.

Counsel for Morey Pearl, proprietor of the Tent ballroom, where the dancing was disturbed, said that the management had no desire to see drastic punishment meted out.

$5,000,000 Election Loan 'Delirium,' Mellon Says

Washington, Dec. 21 (Universal).—Secretary of the Treasury Mellon was entertained, if not impressed, by the story that he loaned $5,000,000 in 1920 to elect the Harding-Coolidge ticket.

Mellon read from a newspaper man's notes on the Heflin speech how an alleged bootlegger had told that Mellon got $5,000,000 back, but the "$2,000,000 deficit" was to be passed by a levy upon bootleggers.

"It sounds to me like a delirium," said Mellon, as he handed back the notes.

Hornsby and Frisch Mysterious Trade Peculiar Look to It

Frankie Will Manage Smart and Shrewd Hornsby and Racing

SOMETHING STRANGE BACK OF BIG DEAL

ROGERS HORNSBY, manager for a year and a fraction, wins St. Louis its first National League pennant and then steers his Cardinals to World Series triumph. And Rogers is traded to the New York Giants for Frankie Frisch. There would seem to be something Swedish in baseball Denmark again. Back of this most startling deal of diamond history, there must be some deep, dark secrets. Perhaps the over-emphasis of harmony at the recent league meetings was camouflage. There was so much peace that it seemed to be suspicious. Baseball has always been a game of bickerings and quarrels. The magnates, acting like so many jealous children have been in the habit of calling names, and sulking in their tents, and doing even as the Kilkenny cats when they gathered. This year we saw the strange sight of age-old enemies falling on each other's necks, shaking hands for the cameras and cooing loudly as they shifted their aching feet on the mosaic floors of the hotel lobbies. Didn't seem natural. There was too much cream and sugar in the coffee. Now two of the greatest modern playing stars are swapped like a couple of rookies. That simply isn't being done without some very hefty reasons. Hornsby had no manager's contract with the Cardinals. He took over the job in the middle of the '25 season. He had a fat salary as a player and that carried through his managerial triumph. He demanded $50,000 a year for three years when it was time to sign again, and he was handed the air.

Nick Flatley

Rogers was an idol in St. Louis last Summer. The populace was with him, and was very vociferous in saying so. They wanted him back next year, naturally. There will be wailing and bitterness in St. Louis when another campaign rolls along

Eliminating the Smoke Nuisance

By Chas. A. L. Reed, M. D.,
Former President of the American Medical Association

IF you live in a city, especially in a large manufacturing centre, you know what is meant by the smoke nuisance.

In Cincinnati, where I was instrumental in organizing a Smoke Abatement League, of which I was president for several years, … [illegible] … was a menace to health … [illegible] … that excessive smoke was a menace to health and … ed to reduce the smoke … something in excess of 40 per cent. The campaign has since been carried on by the same organization to … higher success.

It is gratifying to find through the Paris correspondence of the Journal of the American Medical Association, first, that the smoke nuisance is not strictly an American problem and next, that in France as here, it presents itself as a health problem.

From this source we learn that the question of the pollution of the … cities by the smoke from factories and from private coal … and furnaces is becoming … urban and sanitation … not so much affected as … fogs are less frequent, … almost completely surround… by large factories that are oper… [illegible]

Dr. … professor in the Pasteur Institute, ascribes to the foggy … of Spring and Autumn, when droplets of moisture are suspended in the air and form a heavy layer a short distance above the ground the seasonal recrudescence of infectious diseases in large cities particularly influenza, angina, … scarlet fever and diphtheria seem to spread under such conditions.

As we found years ago in Cincinnati, an analysis of the smoke particles has shown the presence not only of unconsumed carbon, but also of various products due to imperfect combustion in stoves and fireplaces, namely, sulphurous acid, chlorine, ammonia and various hydrocarbons which give rise to permanent irritations of the mucous membranes of the respiratory passages and of the eyes.

The smoke particles with sharp edges (cinders) sometimes cause traumatism of the bronchial mucosa which may become in turn a portal of entry for the tubercle bacillus as happens occasionally among workmen exposed to mineral dust—stone breakers, molders and others.

DAILY SHORT STORY

ATMOSPHERE

By Eudora R. Richardson

WHEN M[illegible] F[illegible] [illegible] of B[illegible] & S[illegible] [illegible] Groups of [illegible] the sort that [illegible] about country clubs in New Jersey and Connecticut, drew McCurray in their midst for Sunday golf and Saturday night dances where girls who never [illegible] except [illegible] tried to make him forget [illegible] Several Park avenue [illegible] were open to him and he felt at home in two or three [illegible]

For instance, [illegible] apartment on [illegible] when he opened the [illegible] closet [illegible] mother, [illegible]

The next night [illegible] Artists and writers [illegible] real. They had to be, else how could they paint and write? A girl in a yellow smock, horribly [illegible] in red, served caviar sandwiches with home brew and synthetic gin. The room was a gorgeous conglomeration of furniture painted in [illegible] easels and half finished pictures. The air was thick with smoke and heavy with the odor of food and drink. This was New York [illegible] atmosphere. [illegible] wonderful [illegible]

But the next morning when he [illegible] the office [illegible] Miss Hampton [illegible] New York [illegible] always [illegible] Leona Hampton. Now he began to wonder about her. She was living doubtless in a hall bedroom somewhere? Didn't he have literary authority for the belief that all working women in New York lived in hall bedrooms? Yet [illegible] Hampton was an executive [illegible] was probably paid well enough [illegible] a very good hall bedroom. [illegible] successful girl, like Miss Hampton [illegible] excellent antidote for the [illegible] paints nocturnally [illegible]

[illegible]

"Come to my house today, and I'll see if I can't show you an atmosphere that is more satisfying," she suggested. "You're just tired."

[illegible] he groaned inwardly [illegible] there was nothing to do but accept so well meant an invitation; but a hall bedroom or a spinster apartment with truck furniture and kitchenette that appeared at the pressing of a button was quite more than he could stand.

As Leona was leaving the office that afternoon she slipped an address [illegible]

"[illegible] at 7," she said. "You needn't dress."

At somewhat past 6:30 McCurray handed Miss Hampton's card to a taxi driver. He simply wasn't equal to a dinner cooked over a gas jet. Yet he thought hopefully Miss Hampton looked as though she [illegible] In an incredibly short time McCurray [illegible] living room. A fire [illegible]

Then Leona was framed in the doorway, Leona in silver slippers and a velvet dress. Her short black hair lay in sleek waves above the oval of her face and the clear brown of her eyes.

"Mother will be in in a moment," she smiled.

"You—you live here?" McCurray floundered.

"Oh, yes, always have," Leona enlightened. "The house is much too large for just mother and me. So we've made apartments and kept this one."

"But you—you work in an office and live here?"

Of course he was being inquisitive, very rude, but Miss Hampton was still smiling.

"I adore my work," she continued. McCurray [illegible]

"[illegible] atmosphere is Southern. [illegible] is New York," Leona [illegible] "[illegible] different."

[illegible]

"It's like coming home," McCurray murmured. "It is coming home."

"Perhaps," Leona replied gravely, and in the firelight her eyes were soft and warm and understanding.

"It is," the young man exulted and reached for the girl with a gesture simply boyish.

"Here's mother," Leona warned but McCurray's happiness knew no abatement. He had come home to stay and a mother gave the finishing touch to the lovely atmosphere.

MEDBURY SAYS---

By JOHN P. MEDBURY

THIS is the time of the year when thousands of men are laying in their supply of mistletoe. They're going to do their Christmas kissing early.

THERE'S no sense in postponing your osculation until the last minute and then have to wait in line.

MISTLETOE is only a little berry, but it acts as a self-starter for bashful men.

A FIFTY-CENT twig will give you all the confidence in the world.

ONE fellow bought a four-dollar branch the other evening and invaded the Y. W. C. A.

THE last that was seen of him he was going back for more mistletoe.

HE buys it retail and uses it wholesale.

WHILE his kissing may be a little premature, he says he's rehearsing for the holidays.

IT OUGHT to please the girls to know that they won't have to put up with a lot of amateurs.

HOMELY dames generally get the beginners.

THE beautiful ones usually demand experts.

A LOT of men are so conceited that they don't bother with mistletoe. They figure it's a waste of time.

OF course, it's nice to have a little branch in your pocket in case of an argument.

BUT one guy says he's carried the same piece of mistletoe for ten years and has never had to show it.

AND he gets just as many kisses in August as he does in December.

JUNE is usually his biggest month.

HE claims he has kissed every girl in Boston and now he's working on New York.

HE hopes to finish this country next year and then go abroad and put himself in circulation in Europe.

SMART SAYINGS OF CLEVER CHILDREN

The Boston Evening American will pay $1 for published smart sayings. Address "Smart Sayings," Boston Evening American.

"Dad, I got into trouble at school and it's all your fault."

"How's that, my son?"

"Well, you remember when I asked you how much a million dollars was?"

"Yes, I remember."

"Well, the teacher asked me today, and 'deuce of a lot' isn't the right answer." WILBY TOLSON.

WISE SAYINGS OF MRS. SOLOMON---BY HELEN ROWLAND

HOLA, hola, hola, my Daughter! Behold, the foot of Royalty hath trodden our shores.

And now, the Queen saith in her heart, "Lo, I have SEEN AMERICA!"

But, alas, she knoweth not whereof she speaketh. For, many things hath she missing seeing! And, flappers, and Niagara Falls, and politicians and the Grand Canyon, and chewing-gum signs are not ALL the Great Sights of America!

Go to. There is the haughty American Office boy, who turneth away poets and bank presidents, alike, with a contemptuous sneer. And, no Crown Prince is more disdainful or more mighty!

And there is the all-American stenographer, who taketh her dictation with one eye upon the clock, and fortifieth herself for a hard day's labor upon a nut sundae and a saltine wafer. And no queen is more nonchalant!

And there is the agile commuter, who sprinteth for his train, carrying a light conscience and a heavy garden rake and ten pounds of seed and a spool of thread, and his wife's new hat.

But most wonderful of all there is that magnificent spectacle—the Great American Husband!

And what Queen hath beheld him in all his glory?

When he hasteneth down to the office at break of day, and setteth his nose to the grindstone that his wife may be clad in imported furs and Paris pearls?

When he grabbeth a doughnut and a glass of milk from the quick-lunch counter, and raceth back to his desk?

When he ariseth at cock-crow and prepareth his wife's coffee and delivereth it at her bedside before departing?

When he taketh the Pekingese for its evening stroll and giveth it its weekly bath upon his day off?

When he creepth up the stairs at midnight, carrying his shoes in his mouth, that his wife's beauty sleep may not be disturbed.

When he pusheth the baby-carriage in the park, upon Sunday afternoons, and wipeth the dishes on the maid's day out.

When he purchaseth his wife's passage to Paris, and packeth her trunks and seeth her safely upon the steamer, that she may divorce him pleasantly and comfortably.

When he cometh across sweetly with the alimony check!

Verily, verily, the Queen may have partaken of green corn upon the cob and set her royal teeth in our chewing-gum, and sampled our rocking chairs.

But she hath not laid eyes upon America's greatest contribution to the civilized world! For the best toys may be made in Germany, and the best hats in France, but the best HUSBANDS are made in America!

DO YOU KNOW THAT---

Amber, which contains electricity, is stated by one expert to have a curative effect on certain diseases and also to make the skin of anyone wearing it whiter and more transparent.

By the closing of an Australian railway line, a traine which has been in active use since 1876 is out of service. The carriages were made in Manchester, and the engines in Glasgow over fifty years ago.

Making artificial silk stockings is now finding employment for over 2,000 workers in this country.

It is the female mosquito that bites; the male is a vegetarian, subsisting on plant juices and other liquid foods.

In 1909 the world's production of artificial silk was 7,500 tons; the estimated output for 1926 is 100,000 tons.

These Campfire Girls ∾ Are Goodfellows All

WILL ENTERTAIN 16 KIDDIES

The Walranke Campfire Girls of Medford who will entertain 16 kiddies Friday at Medford Methodist Church through Christmas Goodfellow movement of Boston Evening American. In the rear row are Elizabeth Wakefield, Beatrice Nichols, Barbara Prescott, Muriel Dunn, Ethel Glennen, Miriam Riley. Front row, Frances Chippendale, Dorothea Waterbury, Mrs. M. D. Riley, guardian; Beatrice Bartlett, Mary Brodish.

PLEA OF NINE KIDDIES GIVES GOODFELLOWS A CHANCE

"My husband has never done his duty by his family, and my daughter is old enough to realize my hardship and it is breaking her heart. Please don't forget us. I have three girls, ages 18, 14 and 12 years and six boys, 12, 10, 8, 6, 4 and eight months old."

A South Boston woman whose husband deserted her and three children hopes someone will give her and her children a Christmas dinner. She has been ill in bed since October.

"My three children and I will have no Christmas dinner unless you help," she writes. "I am not able to move from my bed, having been confined to it from sickness since October. My husband went away and left me alone with my two small children and my girl of 16 years. She works, but we have just enough to pay rent and the necessary bills. When these bills are paid each week we don't have enough to eat."

In addition to today, only three days more remain in which you may become a Christmas Goodfellow and help lift the burden from destitute families, hundreds of which are in our midst. The Boston Evening American still has on file the names and addresses of hundreds of families to whom Christmas Day will be merely December 25 unless YOU step into the breach and extend a helping hand.

Perhaps one of these families lives just around the corner from where you do and oh, how happy those kiddies in that family will be if you will only call and give them a few things they really need, such as shoes and stockings, clothing, fuel, food, etc.

JUST LIFT RECEIVER.

It is a simple thing to become a Christmas Goodfellow. You may do so by lifting the receiver from your telephone, calling Liberty 4000, asking for the Goodfellow Editor and telling him you would like to take care of a family directly this week. He will gladly put you in touch with a family whose circumstances have been inquired into by the Christmas Goodfellow workers and guaranteed to be worthy of your attention.

If you do not wish to telephone, drop in to the Boston Evening American office, No. 5 Winthrop Square, take the elevator to the 4th floor, ask for the Christmas Goodfellow Department, and within a few moments, you will be on your way with the names and addresses of as many families as you wish to care for in person.

We would not advise you to rely upon the mails at this time on account of the Christmas rush and the possibility that your letter, asking for the name and address of a family, may not be delivered in time for you to act, so Christmas Goodfellows, let us hear from you AT ONCE.

We are ready, in fact, have been ready for many days, awaiting your arrival. Now it's up to YOU! If you want destitute kiddies to have a really merry Christmas, do your part now. Do not wait until after the holiday; until some other Christmas Goodfellow tells you of the keen enjoyment he received in caring for a family, and then regret that you too did not help.

ACT RIGHT AWAY.

Resolve now and act. There is still time to do so. Let us hear from you TODAY. Telephone or drop in before you go home tonight. The kiddies need you. Don't let their plea for help be unanswered. After all, what finer thing could you do than tell your young children as they gather around the Christmas tree in your well-heated, well-lighted home on Christmas day; little kiddies just as dear to their parents as yours are to you.

Don't forget our telephone number. It is Liberty 4000. Don't forget our address; it is No. 5 Winthrop square; just around the corner from Summer street, near the Atlantic National Bank.

For those who are too busy to directly aid impoverished families, the Boston Evening American has established a Christmas Goodfellow Fund, to which you may contribute. This newspaper will gladly act as your agent in spending every penny of your contribution solely for necessities of life, spending it just as we believe you would spend it if you visited one of these families and learned of its wants.

The city of Medford contains several Goodfellows and they are all girls. They comprise the membership of the Wahanka Campfire Group, and on next Friday afternoon will entertain sixteen destitute little boys and girls at Medford Methodist Church. There will be a Christmas tree, games, music, refreshments and, finally, gifts of a substantial nature for the children who are being entertained.

The members of the Wahanka Campfire Group who are doing this very worthy Christmas act are as follows: Mrs. M. D. Riley, Guardian; Frances Chippendale, Dorothea Waterbury, Beatrice Bartlett, Mary Bradish, Elizabeth Wakefield, Beatrice Nichols, Barbara Prescott, Muriel Dunn, Ethel Glennen and Miriam Riley.

A discouraged father, who lives on Bean terrace, Somerville, writes:

"As I am a World War veteran and unable to work very much I am writing to see if you will remember my three motherless boys, three, eight and ten years old. I have been able to work only about four months in the last three years and I am still being treated at the Boston City Hospital.

"Whatever you might do to help my three boys enjoy Christmas this year will be greatly appreciated. It would be a wonderful help if you could get some light work for me to do to help my family. Their mother has been dead quite some time, and if the American's Santa Claus passes my boys by, it will indeed be an unhappy Christmas for them, as I am physically impaired for any hard work, and it is almost impossible to get even the most menial of work."

FOR SIX LITTLE ONES.

A disheartened mother who lives on Fairmont avenue, Cambridge, writes:

"Will some Goodfellow kindly help me with a dinner for Christmas? I have six little ones that had nothing for Thanksgiving. I am very badly in need and would be thankful for anything. My children need everything, especially underwear.

"They pick up coke and wood to help keep warm, but when the snow comes and covers up everything, it makes it very hard for us to get fuel to help keep warm. Any thing that is done will be highly appreciated by a poor mother of six little ones."

A little girl named Lottie, who needs help and lives on Sylvia street, Arlington Heights, writes:

"I hope that you will help us this Christmas, as we have ten children in the family. Father is in the hospital, as he has pneumonia, and mother is in the hospital, too, as she has a new baby boy.

"The children haven't any clothing or shoes, and it is very hard indeed and we suffer a lot and know one knows about it except us children. They cry when they go out to play with other children because they make fun of them. The girls wear big dresses and the dresses are longer than they are. My brother and I try to work and we make 50 cents a week. Please do not disappoint us."

Little Joseph of Mountain avenue, Revere, writes:

"I am one of six children and I am asking you to help make my Christmas a little pleasant. My father has been dead two years. I wish you could help me by sending a little food because we ran short of money since my mother lost her job for staying out of work on account of baby Leon's cold, so my dear Goodfellow, I do wish you would help us some."

Still Chance for You to Become a Goodfellow

The "Goodfellow" letters you have read—

From little boys and little girls; from hard-working widows with many children; from poor mothers with "the man" in the hospital and little ones at home all afire with the advent of Christmas.

Have they inspired you with the desire to "do something"?

Be a Goodfellow!

Take some poor family, someone's flock of little ones, as your personal charge for Christmas Day. Call upon them with the things they need.

Telephone Liberty 4000. Ask for The Evening American's "Mr. Goodfellow." He will give you name and address, with other helpful data.

If you wish to help, but will be unable to act in person, a contribution to The Boston Evening American's Christmas Goodfellow Fund will do a lot of good.

BALTIMORE MAN SHOT BY MYSTERIOUS STRANGER

Baltimore, Dec. 21 (A.P.)—Talbott Trosler, 44, dealer in marine supplies, was shot and seriously wounded in his suburban home under circumstances which have baffled police.

He was shot, his wife told police, by one of two men who called at their home ostensibly to inspect the dwelling, which was for sale. Two shots directed at her went wild, Mrs. Trosler said. Neither she nor her husband knew their assailants. Money and jewelry were left untouched.

The gunmen escaped in an automobile bearing a Florida license tag.

FRENCH DEBT PACT NEARS ADOPTION

Washington, Dec. 21 (Universal)—French ratification of the $4,000,000,000 debt settlement with this country, over which premiers and parliamentary leaders have dallied for many months, is "on the way."

This statement was made today by a high administration official, in intimate touch with the progress of the debt agreements here and abroad. Coming after a long period of expressed uncertainty, and sometimes complete silence, it was regarded as reflecting a definite change in the outlook in Paris.

This understanding was heightened by the burning indignation with which a new move looking toward cancellation of the eleven billions of war debts was greeted at the Treasury.

The move came from a group in the Columbia University faculty, which issued a lengthy statement in advocacy of an international conference to decide what to do about the debts.

It was characterized in official quarters as untimely and "indefensible."

Although Secretary of the Treasury Mellon refused public comment on the statement, it was attacked at the Treasury as "feeding the flames of political opposition in France to debt ratification."

PARIS BUDGET DEFICIT OVER 100 MILLION FRANCS

Paris, Dec. 21 (A.P.)—Paris faces a a deficit of 102,000,000 francs, it is shown by the budget for 1927 made public today. The budget totals 2,294,004,000 franc, or seven times the cost of operating the city government before the war.

The Municipal Council proposes to wipe out the deficit by increasing the customs duties on articles entering the city rather than increase the already high taxation.

URGES PUBLIC WORK TO RELIEVE UNEMPLOYMENT

Paris, Dec. 21 (A.P.)—The Poincare cabinet approved an extensive program of public works as part of its plan to fight growing unemployment because of the recent rise of the franc which has upset French business.

It also was agreed to urge employers to work their forces part time rather than reduce their staffs. Premier Poincare repeated his assurance that reports of widespread unemployment were exaggerated.

That 'Bad Beef' Complaint

What Publicity Can Do

12 Filing with the Clerk of the House of Representatives an order calling for an investigation of the Commission on Finance and Administration, Representative Francis X. Coyne made the startling charge that "rotten" beef was being served to the inmates of an unnamed State institution.

Such an inquiry as Representative Coyne apparently desired could not be begun for several weeks and because of this fact The Boston Evening American believed, and said, that the matter appeared to be one for the IMMEDIATE consideration of Grand Jurors.

Into this situation stepped the Executive Council, or, as it is commonly called, the Governor's Council.

The Council, which has general oversight of State institutions, demanded Mr. Coyne's proof, in writing.

The Dorchester representative now flatly refuses to bring his case before the Council. He objects because, for one thing, the Council meets behind closed doors; its sessions are "executive" sessions; he prefers, he says, to work in the open.

If Mr. Coyne's refusal to place the facts before any tribunal having power meant that unfit food must continue to be served to the poor wards of the Commonwealth, The Boston Evening American would have no sympathy with his attitude. But publicity, the Dorchester legislator says, already has brought about a change for the better in bills of fare. As Mr. Coyne puts it:

> "I fully realize that such a condition of affairs calls for immediate attention in order that it may be stopped, but owing to the publicity already given throughout the State to my charges, and my order already filed in the office of the Clerk of the House of Representatives, I am advised that immediate attention has already been given to the situation. The investigation which I seek therefore relates to a condition which existed PRIOR to the filing of my order * * *."

Which means, we take it, that thanks to publicity, rotten beef is NOT being served in State institutions.

We can all be grateful for that and, under the circumstances, perhaps, must be content to allow Representative Coyne to proceed in his own way. His order SHOULD be adopted, at least in so far as it relates to this subject of unfit food.

If the Dorchester man has the facts, he can produce them; if he hasn't got the facts, the people of the 18th Suffolk representative district can be depended upon to take the proper steps at their earliest opportunity.

Woodman, Spare That Fish

Life of Riley, in the Maine Woods.

We do not know whether the little "item" from Augusta which we have just read was put on the wire by the publicity expert of the Great Northern Paper Company, but if it was the gentleman is entitled to a Christmas bonus and an increase in salary.

The Great Northern has been advertising for ONE THOUSAND woodsmen, at Portage and Eagle Lake, on Mud Brook, at Grindstone and at Bigelow, and on the Caucomgomoc and Umbazooksus operations.

It may be that there has been no rush for these one thousand vacancies; perhaps woodsmen of experience are hard to find; anyhow, here is the dispatch from the Maine capital:

> "Augusta, Me., Dec. 17.—Directors of lumbering operations all over Maine are preparing to give stiff battle to the bill which will be introuced in the Legislature next month to prohibit the serving of game fish to the crews of lumber camps.
> "The proposed law will be sponsored by the Maine Sportsmen's Fish and Game Association, which says that fishing has been ruined in certain lakes and streams BECAUSE OF THE FREQUENT FEEDING OF TROUT AND SALMON TO ENTIRE CREWS OF WOODSMEN."

Lumbermen, the correspondent goes on to say, "feel that the mere fact of a man's working in the woods ought not to bar him from eating trout, salmon or whatever else he can get in the way of fresh fish."

If this is not notice to all the world of woodsmen that lake and brook trout and REAL Penobscot salmon are to remain upon the bills-of-fare, it must be something else. (The Great Northern maintains free employment agencies in Portland and Bangor.)

Well, wealthy sportsmen and equally hard-working laborers, the Maine woods "gets" them all. Small wonder!

Shop Early IN THE DAY

It Is Too Late, Unfortunately, to Do Early Shopping

A few more shopping days, then Christmas—the time for early shopping has gone by, but you may still render service to managers and employes of shops by doing your buying EARLY IN THE DAY.

The stores open in good season and at that time there is plenty of room. The sales people are rested after a night's sleep. It is the best time for them and the best time for you. Early in the day counters are not obstructed. You can do in half an hour the shopping that would take an hour and a half later in the day. The main thing is that going to the shops early shows consideratioin for others, facilitates the work of thousands that are overworked; therefore if you haven't shopped early in the Christmas season at least DO YOUR LATE SHOPPING early in the day.

Everybody knows of the unlimited supplies of heat in the depths of the earth. It has been estimated that an investment of thirty million dollars would put down a well that would supply super-heated steam in quantities practically inexhaustible. The difficulty is to find somebody to risk the thirty millions. Perhaps when we have some five and ten-time BILLIONAIRES to take the place of today's ONE-time billionaires the experiment will be tried.

Turner, an English astronomer, shows that about fifty miles up in the air there exists tropical heat all the year round. This surprises us, knowing that if an aviator goes up from six to eight miles he nearly freezes to death, and has to take up a supply of oxygen with him.

But science knows what it is talking about, and it tells us that if the aviator kept on going up to about fifty miles he would find himself in a hot climate, above storms and above wind, except a gentle breeze going east with the motion of the earth.

Their Star of Hope -:- -:- By O. P. Williams

IT is not too late to start the giving that will bring a Christmas day of joy into thousands of young lives. You do not need to be told what this newspaper's Christmas Goodfellow work means each year to the young people in this city who do not have wealthy parents, kinsfolk or friends to remember them. It is a story already written in thousands of hearts.

MAGICIAN AND YET HATER OF FRAUD

By DR. FRANK CRANE

HARRY HOUDINI was, in many respects, a great man.

He was not only a great entertainer, but he was great physically, being exceedingly strong and fit, and great spiritually.

His real name was Eric Samuel and he was the son of the Rev. Dr. Mayer Samuel of Appleton, Wisconsin.

He changed his name at the request of his father, taking a name adapted from the great Houdin.

He afterwards repudiated Houdin and wrote a work denouncing him, but he kept his name.

Those who were intimately acquainted with Houdini respected the force of his convictions.

Although he was a magician and a trickster, he hated fraud of all kinds, and anyone that claimed supernatural powers or supernatural aid was to him as a red rag to a bull.

He did a great deal of good in exposing spiritualistic claims.

One of his last acts was to spend some time submerged in a coffin, showing that the much-advertised Rahman-Bey did not do his feat except by trickery.

He held that it was all right to fool the public if you told them you were fooling them and it was manifest trickery, but to fool them and to claim supernatural powers was wrong.

Houdini had a great library consisting of works of magic and sleight-of-hand of all ages.

He was a most companionable man and very modest in his personal life, although his name was a household word in every language.

He escaped from so many prisons and various kinds of shackles that "to do the Houdini act" was a phrase that entered into common parlance. It is given to very few men to enrich the language of their fellows with a new word.

His death is sincerely mourned by all who knew him.

His personal life was attractive and beyond reproach.

ODDS AND ENDS OF THE TOWN

LEADERS.

THE only thing worse than a bunch of green jurors is a bunch of greener jurors, but COURT OFFICERS EDDIE MURRAY and JOHN DONOVAN, former Representative, Common Councilor and proud parent of the assistant HARVARD football coach, handle rookies without the loss of a single man. EDDIE stuffs them carefully into the jury box in the fourth Suffolk Criminal Session, while JOHNNIE leads their steps out again to the jury room and deliberations. JOHNNIE is also chaperon of the flock at luncheons and suppers at the Bellevue, and shows a partiality for filet of sole.

FOUR AND EIGHT.

A prominent local professional man is beginning to delve into the science of numerology, as a result of the discovery that the numerals four and eight are playing a prominent part in his life, since coming to Boston. In anticipation of his arrival here from Chicago, a room was obtained for him at the Copley Plaza. The number was 480. A friend then obtained registration for his car, the plates reading: 448,844.

Pending the arrival of his furniture, with which he intended to take up residence here, the Chicago man took a furnished apartment in the Back Bay. On coming out of the building he found the number to be 448. After the furniture arrived, his wife leased a house in Brookline, the number of which she failed to notice. On driving out with her, her husband discovered it was No. 48 and the telephone when installed was 8842. As evidence that the numerals are still on the job his 1927 auto registration is 98,888.

There Is Also Amendment 14, Gentlemen of Congress!

Under the head of "Prohibition," President Coolidge counsels obedience to the Constitution in terms that will not fail to interest the nation. He says:

"Failure to support the Constitution and observe the law ought not to be tolerated by public opinion. Especially those in public places, who have taken their oath to support the Constitution, ought to be most scrupulous in its observance.

"Some people do not like the prohibition amendment, some do not like other parts of the Constitution, some do not like any of it.

"But for any of our inhabitants to observe such parts of the Constitution as they like, while disregarding others, is a doctrine that would break down all protection of life and property and destroy the American system of ordered liberty."

It is true that some do not like the prohibition amendment, which is the Eighteenth.

It is also true that some do not like the Fourteenth Amendment. This applies especially to Congress—to "those in public places who have taken their oath to support the Constitution."

The Fourteenth Amendment, which cannot be deemed a fractional degree less sacred than the Eighteenth Amendment, provides as follows:

"Representatives shall be apportioned among the several States according to their respective numbers."

There are representatives in Congress who work themselves into a white heat when they dwell upon violations of the Eighteenth Amendment, but combine to defeat the Fourteenth Amendment, which commands reapportionment on a population basis following every census.

The reason that most Congressmen do not like the Fourteenth Amendment is easily stated. If they permitted representation on the basis of populations, some of the faster growing States, like California, would have more members in Congress, POSSIBLY AT THEIR EXPENSE.

You can realize this after looking over the following cross-section from the roster of States. The population figures are those of the 1920 census. The number of representatives apportioned in 1911 prevails today:

	1920 Population.	No. Representatives.
Iowa	2,404,021	11
Kentucky	2,416,630	11
Wisconsin	2,632,067	11
Georgia	2,895,832	12
Indiana	2,900,390	13
Missouri	3,404,056	16
CALIFORNIA	3,426,861	11

This does not take into consideration the fact that California now leads any of these States by at least 1,000,000 more than it did in 1920.

However, the illustration serves to make clear that Congress is not obeying the Fourteenth Amendment and, until it does, a good many people will not take seriously the diatribes against violators of the Eighteenth Amendment which emanate from that source.

LISTEN, WORLD!

By ELSIE ROBINSON

IS it all right for Tillie the Toiler to float into the office arrayed in a few inches of printed georgette, which fail to connect with collarbone, knee joint or elbow?

That's a serious question. I want your answer. Just what DO you think about Styles for Office Girls?

Should they wear uniforms, something like the smock, which is so popular at present? Or should they stick to severely tailored dark gowns, with fairly high necks and longish skirts and sleeves? Or should they be allowed to appear in costumes which are a cross between a corn plaster and a lamp shade.

Approves of Smocks

That isn't a silly discussion. It goes deeper than clothes, it probes the significance of a woman's job. Should a woman's job be something apart from her feminine life and should the clothes she wears to that job symbolize her unsexed, industrial attitude? Or should she be as feminine during her working hours, and as eager to charm as she is when she hops into her silver lace and jazzes off to a party with her Best Boy Friend?

I'm wondering.

Personally I'll confess I'm strong for smocks or tailored dresses. There's no moral element involved in this atitude. I don't think that young ladies arrayed in ruffled mosquito netting are "bad" or that serge-clad sweeties are "good." I simply think that serge stands the office racket better than mosquito netting. At 9 A. M. Tillie may be a vision of delight in a figured georgette, but at 5 P. M. she usually looks like a last year's birdnest. Whereas the girl beside her in the blue smock is as crisp after eight hours' grilling as she was when she started.

Officers Inhuman

However, that's just my opinion. And a lot of people don't agree with me. Helen Woodward doesn't. Mrs. Woodward has recently written a book which tells the story of her twenty years of struggle in the business world. On the question of dress for working girls she has this to say:

"I suppose it is because so many people think offices inhuman efficiency incubators that they are always laying down rules about how women in them should act and what they should wear and how they should have long sleeves and not bob their hair and do without rouge. I cannot, in any other way, explain to myself this important interference with the lives of office women. Why should anyone take it upon himself to give advice about such a matter? A girl who is able to earn her own living can be trusted to have enough sense to know what she ought to wear. And if she hasn't, it's her own affair—nobody else's.

IS THIS A PROPER OFFICE COSTUME?
ELSIE ROBINSON

"These people seem to expect women who work to become suddenly inhuman. The long day is the best time most girls have to look pretty. Then why shouldn't they look just as seductive and dangerous to men as they know how, during these important hours? If they should not do it at their work, then no woman should do it at any time. I don't see why it is more immoral for a girl to wear a sleeveless dress and a well-made-up face at a typewriting desk than for other women to wear them at an evening dinner."

Well, what do YOU think of it, Old Timer?

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By Aline Michaelis

TO SOME it is a scarlet leaf, adrift on Autumn's gale which ever whispers: "Joy is brief and life a fleeting tale!" To me it is a messenger that flaunts its banner bright and makes my lagging pulse astir with promise of delight. Some eyes see but a wisp of haze along the sea's far rim; I glimpse the end of lonely days, life's cup with bliss a-brim. And in the damp and chilling blast, the dull November day, I sense though Spring long since has passed a world all sweet with May. Each finds in all he hears and sees the image of his thought; notes that to one weave thenodies, for some with joy are fraught. To you, perhaps, a scarlet leaf, a barren wintry world; to me, the end of care and grief, the flag of hope unfurled!
